Train Sights On Ethiopians

After an interval of several weeks in which Italian forces have been consolidating their advances, Italian gunners are now training their eyes on Ethiopian strongholds in preparation for a new drive. Here is a bearded Roman getting all set to fire the first salvo.

Rabid Tribesmen Hurl Themselves Into Fascist Maw: 3,500 Are Dead

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 1.—A bloody encounter in which 3,500 Ethiopian warriors were killed and wounded was reported by a reliable source here last night. The battle took place on the southeast front, where a desperate tribal force hurled itself into the devastating fire of solidly entrenched Italian troops near Walwal.

Dedjazmatch Haptemikael, commander of the Ethiop'an army in the area, was among the slain, dispatches said.

OTHER BATTLES

Heavy fighting also was reported at several other points in Ogaden province. Outnumbering the Italians two to one, 300,000 Ethiopian troops commanded by Ras Desta Demtu and Ras Nasibu were suffering heavy losses due to lack of modern equipment, according to information reaching here.

DEFY ORDERS

A number of Ethiopian attacks were rep 'ted on fortified Italian positions in defiance of Emperor Haile Selassie's orders to his generals not to dissipate their strength in locked combat.

The Fascist army brought tanks and field artillery into play in its drive on the tribesmen, it was learned.

Reports of the reverses suffered in the southeast cast a pall of gloom over this capital last night.

CHINA PREMIER LAID LOW BY ASSASSIN GUN

Pro-Japanese Leader and Three Others Suffer Attack

By C. V. McDANIELS

Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press

NANKING, China, Nov. 1.—An assassin's bullets today wounded Premier Wang Ching-Wei, generally regarded as a pro-Japanese leader, and three other officials of the Chinese Nationalist government, gathered to consider Japan's advance in North China.

The assassin, believed by authorities to be a Chinese identified with the Cantonese faction which long has been critical of the premier's attitude, was killed either by his own hand or by others—as bodyguards returned the fire.

Wang Ching-Wei, 50, was struck by at least three bullets and was removed to the Central hospital in a critical condition.

His princ'ple aide, Tseng Chun-Min, vice-minister of interior for railways, also was near death. Chang Chi, former president of the Judicial Yuan, and Kan Nai-Kuang, chief of the political bureau of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's headquarters, also were wounded.

The premier's assailant was identified, authorities announced, as Sun Mingh-Sun, reporter for a Chinese news agency. The officials alleged that Sun used a camera as a shield for his pistol in the attack.

ANXIOUS TO PAY SAYS PREMIER

Position of himself and the government toward the payment of a basic dividend of $25 a month to each qualified adult recipient in Alberta has not altered, declared Premier William Aberhart on Friday in commenting on the suggestion by W. R. Howson, K.C., Alberta Liberal leader, that Major Douglas's unlikely return here until spring was an evasion of the issue.

Mr. Howson also asked the direct question as to whether the premier intended paying the dividend.

"We are more anxious than ever to get going on this question," said the premier. "Our position has not altered in this respect, and it is as it was during the campaign, namely, to pay the dividend."

CANADA SHAKEN BY EARTHQUAKE

By The Canadian Press

An earthquake described as the heaviest ever experienced over such an extensive part of the country, a shock so severe it damaged the seismographic instruments in the Dominion observatory at Ottawa, rumbled across Canada from the head of Lake Superior to the Bay of Fundy early today, causing negligible damage. Tall buildings and homes alike were shaken by the tremor that lasted less than a minute. Thousands of persons, awakened when their beds trembled violently, jumped hurriedly into clothing. Many ran into the streets. Hallowe'en parties were disrupted for a time.

HELENA AGAIN PROSTRATED IN QUAKE SHOCKS

Reconstruction Group Is Summoned to Consider New Emergency

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 1.—Helena's residents felt another severe jolt today as they huddled in sub zero weather about steaming pots of stew and coffee.

The Helena reconstruction committee, formed after the first severe quake of Oct. 18 caused five deaths and $2,500,000 damage, was summoned again into session to consider the new emergency.

The members heard from City Engineer Oscar Baarson that the major tremor that struck the city yesterday caused an additional $500,000 to $1,000,000 damage and that many buildings are untenable.

Two were killed and scores were hurt yesterday. There have been 728 tremors in 21 days.

St. Peters' hospital, the only one in the city still operating, was overcrowded with patients seeking trea'ment for injuries or shock. Many patients in other hospitals were taken to private homes or removed to nearby cities that offered all their facilities to aid the quake casualties.

Since the major shock at 11:37 a.m. M.S.T. yesterday 158 tremors were recorded on weather bureau instruments.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The eastern stretch of Canada and the United States experienced earth tremors shortly after one a.m., E.S.T., this morning that caved in one home, caused buildings to sway, awakened thousands of sleepers and caused consternation for a brief period. No reports of injuries were received in early dispatches from points in the Maritimes, Quebec and Ontario in Canada, and through the eastern United States to West Virginia.

In the far west, citizens of Helena, Mont., were still jittery from a fatal series of shocks numbering more than 500. Two persons were killed Thursday as the spasmodic tremors continued there.

SEPARATE SHOCKS

There were two distinct shocks in the East. The first lasted 40 seconds in some places and was followed by a briefer, less pronounced tremor.

Toronto, Montreal, Saint John, N.B., Detroit, Cleveland, Washington, Boston, Albany and Fairmont, in West Virginia, all reported that buildings were swayed by the temblor.

The house that crumbled was at Syracuse, N.Y. Telephone lines

QUEBEC QUAKE DESTROYS RAIL LINES OF C.N.R.

Northern Abitibi Rails Are Twisted Out of Shape—Fissure Appears

DOUCET, Que., Nov. 1.—Described as the epicentre of today's earthquake, this northern Abitibi district reported considerable damage from the tremors that shook the area early this morning. Railway tracks were broken and twisted, disrupting traffic on the transcontinental line of the Canadian National Railways.

The rumblings lasted for about one and a half minutes, arousing residents of neighboring settlements and causing consternation throughout the district.

Word reaching here said the quake has caused a fissure about 250 feet long and 40 feet deep on the shores of Lac Menjobagues.

The railway was reported to have been heaved from its position for several miles some distance below the village of Parent.

Early word said transfer of passengers on the Transcontinental Limited was made at this point, but that all freight trains had been brought to a standstill.

From other northern districts of Amos and Noranda reports said there had been no damage, but that shocks had been felt about 1:05

Toronto Man Is Tight: Quake Is No Imagination

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—Earthquakephobia, a new ailment in Ontario, broke out with startling suddenness at 1:06 a.m. today. Shaking walls, beds, clocks, dishes, started it.

Genuine fright seized hundreds of persons who were wakened from their slumber.

One anonymous gentleman, however, is presumed to have slept after it. He telephoned the office of the Canadian Press a few minutes after the disturbance.

"Was there a 'quake?" he asked.

He was told there had been a slight one.

"Thanks," he said. "Thought maybe I was st'll drunk. These Hallowe'en parties, y'know."

With a sleepy yawn, he hung up.

Hairpins Last Her 56 Years: Dozen Bought

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—Mrs. T. Cadwell has been using the same hair-pins for 56 years. She hasn't had to buy any since the time she went to the little store in Harrison, Ont., and purchased the dozen that were first to hold up her brown locks.

She wore them on her wedding day when she was 17 years of age, and wore the same pins on her silver and golden wedding anniversaries.

EMILIE GETS SOCK ON NOSE

CALLANDER, Ont., Nov. 1.—Nose tweeks and kicks which were the order of things among the Dionne quintuplets when they felt pugnacious several months ago are child's play to their latest methods of attack.

While tossing about in their nursery, Annette socked baby Emilie on the nose with a wooden block, drawing blood. Emilie didn't like it.

The earth tremors early today failed to disturb the tots.

Gull Lake Wife Is Acquitted Of Husband Murder

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask., Nov. 1.—After deliberating about two and a half hours, the jury in the trial of Mrs. Katherine Reed, accused of murdering her husband, George Reed, Gull Lake farmer, by giving him poison, brought in a verdict of "not guilty" at 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—Dr. Eugene H. Pool of New York city, professor of clinical surgery at the Cornell Medical Centre, was elected president yesterday of the American College of Surgeons for the 1936-37 term.

Russian, Cold, Builds Home In Montreal Park

MONTREAL, Nov. 1. — Cold weather was coming on and Uncane Vinchuk, 50, had no place to sleep.

So Uncane, a native of Russia, picked himself a spot on the side of Mount Royal, cut all the wood he needed from the trees on the mountain, and built himself a nice comfortable shack to spend the winter.

Everything was going fine until two husky police constables hustled Vinchuk off to court on a charge of desecrating the park.

Recorder F. Semple allowed him to go on condition he demolish the structure.

QUAKE FRIGHT KILLS WOMAN

WATERTOWN, N.Y., Nov. 1.—The death of Mrs. Catherine Cook, 66, today was attributed indirectly to fright growing out of the earthquake felt here this morning. Dr. Leonard Vincent, who was called soon after the woman collapsed, said an attack of heart disease, from which she had suffered previously, had been brought on by fear.

MARCONI SAYS PLANES SAFE FROM TRICKS

Flays Geneva for Treading Dangerous Path of Sanctions

ROME, Nov. 1—Guglielmo Marconi, Italy's "wizard of the wireless," assured North Americans in a broadcast speech last night there would be no "tricks" from him involving airplane and automobile engines in the African campaign.

Replying to recent current reports that he had developed a micro-wave radio apparatus which would stop airplane motors in flight, the noted inventor said:

"If you are eager to hear from me something about an alleged new invention with which I could stop motor engines at a great distance and do worse tr cks than that, then let me reassure you, saying at once you may fly to your hearts content.

"There will be no stopping you; for the present, at any rate."

$2,000,000 LEFT TO CHARITIES

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—The Evening Telegram in a news story today said it is rumored an estate of approximately $2,000,000 has been left by Mrs. Theresa Small, practically all to Roman Catholic charities.

Mrs. Small inherited almost $2,000,000 from the estate of her husband, Ambrose J. Small, who disappeared from the Grand Opera House in Toronto Dec. 2, 1919, and has never been seen since.

SHAM BATTLE OVER EGYPT

ALEXANDRIA, Nov. 1. — Under cover of darkness and with a gale raging in the Mediterranean, Great Britain's fleet and air force last night staged a sham naval battle of Alexandria.

Mock aerial combat in a storm high over the inland sea was carried out as planned, British naval sources revealed. Scores of planes, theoretically engaged in offensive and defensive action complementing the engagement of two fleets in heavy seas far below, soared in fighting formations in and out of cloud banks.

NEW PLAN IS MOOTED FOR NEGOTIATIONS

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY

Copyright, 1935, by the Associated Press

GENEVA, Nov. 1.—Italy returned to the League of Nations battlefront today willing, according to a spokesman, to quit the battlefronts of Ethiopia on conditions acceptable to the Fascist nation.

By The Canadian Press

Italy went to Geneva today prepared to discuss peace. "We are not running after peace," said a spokesman of Mussolini, "but we are not refusing to negotiate." At the same time Foreign Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare, newly-arrived from London, arranged to meet Baron Aloisi of Italy and Premier Laval of France.

A new peace plan giving Ethiopia a port on the Red Sea in exchange for concessions to Italy was reported to be under consideration.

The number of League members willing to apply sanctions against Italy mounted to 50, though some were anxious to receive special consideration because of credit balances they hold in Italy.

Dr. Walter Riddell speaking for Canada, urged the League's subcommittee on technical details not to approve any exceptions which might weaken the united pressure of sanctions against Italy. The question was referred to economic experts.

SIDE-TRACKING MAJ. DOUGLAS GIVEN DENIAL

Premier Says London View of Situation is Wrong

The provincial government is not side-tracking Major C. H. Douglas, chief reconstruction adviser to Alberta in favor of R. J. Magor, noted Montreal actuary, Premier William Aberhart stated on Friday. H's statement was made on receipt of a news despatch from London, quoting the London Social Credit Secretariat as charging that this was his intention and that Mr. Magor's presence here was an indication of this.

"There is no bas's for this belief," declared Premier Aberhart, "Mr. Magor is not dealing with Social Credit or the application of the scheme. He is here to reorganize administrative services and to give a better system of government. Social Credit is Major Douglas's field."

Continuing the Premier said that the government had not decided when Major Douglas would be asked to return here, or whether he would be invited to come in the immediate future.

"We have consistently informed the people we were first of all trying to put the province's affairs in a sound financial state so that a new program would not be hampered by the loose ends of an old system. Major Douglas was employed by the government to give advice by correspondence or by actual presence in Alberta, and therefore there was no indication whatever that we did not intend to use his services. We have communicated with him continuously since coming into power and in his own letter of Oct. 15 he stated that if there was no direct opposition he did not see the necessity of return'ng here before spring.

"The government feels that if we can have a definite assurance at an early date that the province's affairs will be ironed out smoothly and quickly we might take steps even before the New Year to have Major Douglas come to Alberta."

COSTUME AFIRE: BOY IS BURNED

ITALIANS CAPTURE MAKALE

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 1. — An unofficial announcement said today the Italians captured Makale, their next major objective on the northern front, at dawn.

By JAMES A. MILLS

Associated Press Foreign Staff

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 1.—An Ethiopian government communique said today an Italian military plane either fell or was brought down during an air raid Tuesday at Bourana, near Dolo, on the southern front.

The communique said there was no news from the other fronts.

A principal adviser to Emperor Haile Selassie predicted "painful surprises" were in store for the invading Italians.

This authority and other government officials said if Premier Mussolini disregarded League of Nations imposition of sanctions and pressed on in warfare, he would find the entire Ethiopian nation mobilized to accept his challenge.

The King of Kings' army of 1,000,000 men was said to be still intact, not having had a single major encounter with the Italians and having suffered only a few hundred casualties.

ROME, Nov. 1.—King Victor Emanuel came openly and publicly to the support of Premier Mussolini today for Italy's campaign of conquest in Ethiopia.

McGeer Is Loser By Four Votes

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1.—Although the result of the federal election in Vancouver-Burrard will not be definitely announced until Nov. 6, unofficial complete returns last night indicated Arnold Webster, C.C.F. candidate, becomes the elected member by four votes over Mayor G. G. McGeer, Liberal.

Four missing absentee ballots from Garrett, B.C., have been reported by the deputy returning officer there showing three marked for Webster and one for McGeer.

The returning officer for Alberni riding, to whom the Garrett votes were sent in error, will not open his ballot box for his official check until Nov. 4. The ballots will be located then and forwarded to Mr. Phipps.

Excluding the four missing ballots, the vote stands: Webster, 10,226; McGeer, 10,224.

DOUGLAS DELAY IS SURPRISE TO WM. ABERHART

Premier Says Correspondence Has Been Passed

Surprise was expressed by Premier William Aberhart when shown a despatch from London, quoting Major C. H. Douglas, chief reconstruction adviser to the provincial government, as stating that he had not been invited to come to Alberta and that he had booked his passage to come on receipt of a wire from the Premier, and later had cancelled it when he saw the Calgary Social Credit caucus, called a few days after the election of Aug. 22, had advised delay in his coming.

Major Douglas was quoted as saying that since that time, he had no invitation from Premier Aberhart to come here.

The Premier said that "Major Douglas must mean that he has had no further cables from me, as I have written him two or three letters and have received his reply dated Oct. 15, in which he expressed a preference not to make his second visit in the early future unless it was absolutely necessary.

"I had a conference with the Dean of Canterbury and he was to see Major Douglas on his arrival in England on Oct. 30 and I am at present waiting for the result of that interview."

form where Il Duce stood yesterday when he inaugurated the university of the City of Rome, the king uttered virtually the same words as the premier.

Victor Emanuel asserted Italy was fostering her civilization at home, while engaged in defence of her security and her future.

Meanwhile Fascist feeling against Great Britain mounted higher amid preparations to resist an imminent economic blockade by 52 nations of Nations, attributed generally by the public to British insistence.

QUAKE BLAMED ON AGE OF ICE

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Persons whose sleep was interrupted by the earthquake early today may blame it on the great ice age.

It is at least 25,000 years since the ice age ended, scientists estimate, but it was these same scientists who fixed its guilt.

Dr. L. C. Conant, director of the Cornell University seismological station, explained that the general theory of earthquakes in the northeast is that the earth is gradually recovering from the burden of a sheet of ice one to two miles thick

Reno Divorce Applicant Hurt In Auto Mishap

RENO, Nev., Nov. 1.—Mrs. Anna Cruickshank of Vancouver, B.C., and New York, was critically injured Thursday when an automobile in which she was riding left the highway and turned over.

Mrs. Cruickshank, who had established residence here reportedly to divorce Lewis Cruickshank of New York City, was said by hospital attaches to have suffered a fractured skull, serious cuts and bruises about the face, and possible internal injuries.

went out in a number of centres in upper New York state.

Some buildings shook but five seconds in Toronto, causing pictures to shimmy. At Montreal it was of sufficient strength to move furniture.

First word of the shock, lasting about five seconds, came from Toronto. Calls at the city was gripped in a shimmying motion, pictures shook on walls.

IN EASTERN U.S.

The shocks were felt east in New England, extending along the Massachusetts Atlantic coast, and west to Windsor, Ont., Detroit, Michigan and Cleveland, Ohio.

A sharp jar rocked a half dozen cities in upstate New York. The first shock was felt in Albany at 1112 p.m. E.S.T., after striking a number of other cities eight and 10 minutes earlier.

Large buildings were shaken in Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Elmira, Plattsburgh and other communities but no reports were made of any loss of life.

AVERAGE PRICES AT SHEEP SALE

The average prices in the Edmonton Fall Show and Sale of Sheep and Swine which concluded Thursday at the arena showed substantial increases over last year. Prices obtained by auction at the show are as follows:

England Votes Municipal Polls

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Bitter municipal election campaigns in 365 cities and towns of England and Wales reach a vote today. In Scotland municipal voters go to the polls on Nov. 5.

A total of 2,369 candidates—Labor, Conservative, Independent and Liberal—are contesting the 1,322 seats in municipal councils. Four hundred present councilmen will be returned unopposed. Unemployment relief and air raid precautions have figured as lively issues.

CONTINUED BAD WEATHER MAY MEAN TROUBLE

Partial Blockade of Highways Looms as Apparatus Fails

Depreciated condition of the provincial government snow-clearing apparatus and the heavy snows of recent days will make it difficult, if not impossible for the government to carry out road-clearance beyond the amount done last year, Premier William Aberhart stated on Friday. As a result of the heavy snowfall and the high drifts, many representations have been made to the government for immediate and thorough road clearing.

"Since these storms came the government equipment has been working 24 hours a day to keep roads open," he said. "The machinery won't stand this grind on account of its worn condition. No purchase of any new equipment in the way of trucks or snow ploughs seems to have been made for the last five years, neither has there been any payment or provision made through equipment depreciation account.

"It would seem that if unfavorable conditions continue, in order to keep main, trunk highways open, it may be necessary to curtail removal of snow from the less-travelled roads."

Landslide Occurs When Quake Strikes

NORTH BAY, Ont., Nov. 1.—A landslide leaving a gaping hole 40 feet in depth at one point and 200 feet long in the Canadian National Railways right-of-way at the Manouan subdivision, about 225 miles east of Cochrane, followed the earthquake that shook the eastern part of the continent today.

The tracks at the place were carried on a large dump which gave way to the force of the tremor. Repair crews rushed to the scene and it is expected a trestle will have to be erected to effect repairs. Meanwhile passenger traffic is being diverted via Cochrane to the break and freight traffic diverted over another route.

Between Dozois and Tabouret, Quebec, on the Temiskaming branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway, another slide caused the quake crashed a telegraph pole into the bush and caused a heavy embankment to fall, blocking part of the railway. A "slow order" is being given all trains passing this place.

Obstinate Monkey Mother Causes Death Of Babe

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—The Lincoln Park zoo's 10-day old Orang-Utan died Thursday of starvation. His mother, Nancy, was unable to feed her young one and she refused to permit keepers to take the baby orang from her, thus preventing artificial feeding.

40,000 Rats Die In Hallowe'en Hunt

CONCORD, Mass., Nov. 1.—The scurrying feet of thousands of rats in Middlesex county were stilled today.

The rats succumbed to a ton of rat poison furnished by the county extension agent, Allison MacDougall, director, estimated between 30,000 and 40,000 rats were killed in the annual Hallowe'en hunt.

Spain Objects To Dietrich Film

MADRID, Nov. 1.—All Paramount films, it was announced, are banned effective Monday unless the movie, "The Devil Is a Woman" is withdrawn from world circulation and the negative destroyed. War Minister Jose Marl Gil Robles announced last night.

Spain has barred the Marlene Dietrich picture because of a drinking scene in a cafe which, authorities contended, "insulted the Spanish armed forces."

Crew Of Disabled Vessel Rescued

PORT HURON, Mich., Nov. 1.—The crew of the Swedish steamer Viator, which sank yesterday in Lake Huron, reached here today aboard the motorship Ormsdale.

Details were not immediately available, but earlier reports received by the coast guard station at Harb Beach, Mich., indicated the Ormsdale and the Viator had collided off Thunder Bay Island light about noon yesterday and that the Ormsdale had taken off all members of the Viator's crew.

Australia Scores 165 For 6 Wickets

PERTH, Australia, Nov. 1.—Replying to the Marlebone Cricket Club's first innings total of 344, West Australia today had scored 165 runs for six wickets when stumps were drawn at the end of the second day's play.

Quebec Convenes Legislature Jan. 7

QUEBEC, Nov. 1.—The new Quebec legislature will be convened Jan. 7.

The announcement made today in a proclamation by the lieutenant-governor, followed two days after Premier Taschereau set provincial elections for Nov. 25, with nomination day the previous Monday.

MAYOR WANTS JOINT PARLEY

Proposing a joint conference of Edmonton and Calgary with Premier Wm. Aberhart and his cabinet ministers when municipal taxation problems are reviewed at the parley suggested by the Edmonton city council, Mayor J. A. Clarke declared Friday he did not believe, however, that other Alberta cities should take part in this particular meeting.

He objected to a suggestion made by the city of Lethbridge that a conference of municipalities with the province be held before Premier Aberhart surveys east to attend the parley between the federal authorities and representatives of the provincial governments. This should be left to the convenience of Mr. Aberhart, he said.

While of the opinion that Calgary, having the same problems as Edmonton, should be invited to join this city in making representations, the mayor opposed the idea of other cities taking part as "we have plenty of our own work to get through in one day."

STUDENTS KICK HARD AT FINES

Students resident in Athabaska and Assiniboia halls at the University of Alberta are at loggerheads with the men's house committee headed by Garth O'Brien, fifth year medical student.

Cause of the complaint is the levying of fines for infringement of regulations, the committee considering fines necessary for the proper maintenance of order, while the students object to, $1 fines for "throwing napkins at table," "Upsetting milk" and "Walking on grass in front of the residences." Residents in the north wing of Assiniboia hall also object to a $25 fine levied on them by the committee following the turning on of the fire hose in the hall by an undiscovered jokesmith. Unable to determine the individual responsible students along the whole corridor were fined.

As a result of the deadlock between the students and the committee a petition has been circulated among students asking for interventies by Dr. J. M. McEachran, university provost to halt the flow of fines.

Feminine View Carries Field In Co-Ed Debate

A riot of laughter featured the debate in Convocation Hall Thursday evening when students argued the question, "Resolved that the Education of Co-eds is a Waste of Time and Money."

Boos, cheers and interruptions from the floor added spice to the proceedings, but the whole resulted in victory for Miss Geraldine Mayor and Miss Eileen Lannon who appeared clad in cap and gown and carrying a "bigger baby" doll, and upheld the women's point of view.

Though the actual argument was wild, some of the rallies passed back and forth were as follows:

Victor Chmelnitsky, leader of the affirmative: "The presence of a co-ed in the lecture room is a distraction to the masculine students interested in her sighs, her swaying hips, her air of aloofness—"

THAT'S A DREAM

Interruption from the negative side, "That's another dream."

"In extra-curricular activities," said the leader of the affirmative, "women prove their inferiority by being unable to adequately compete with men, and the only reason two women are present on this platform this evening is that we couldn't find two men on the campus who would uphold co-education."

Miss Geraldine Mayor, rising to support the negative side recalled to the mind of the audience a saying of Dorothy Parker's, which, she felt, adequately expressed her opinion, of the affirmative arguments, "Inseparable, my thumb and my nose."

"Education", she remarked, "is what we have left when everything we have learned is forgotten."

"Higher education for women", she said, "is an unmitigated failure," and she proposed that the only solution was education of a woman especially for marriage. This real education, she claimed, could only be secured if the mind of woman were sufficiently broadened by the preparatory training given by University career.

MAN'S WORLD

"It's a man's world," she said, "and woman's job is merely to make him happy, to see that he attains a home, fatherhood and a satisfactory position. Why should such women be given the same?" she asked.

Objection from the floor: "How are they going to attain papahood?"

Miss Mayor concluded that the role of wife and mother is not sufficient to fully occupy the talents and energies of a woman.

Leonard Bercuson, second speaker for the affirmative, painted a most doleful picture of the husbands of women who pursue the acquisition of culture after marriage.

ROAD TO RUIN

"Such men," he said, "may be seen staggering down the road to ruin with pallid cheeks, and," he impressed upon the audience, "if you smell their breath, what does it smell of? Salmon and sardines."

Miss Eileen Lannon rallied to defense of her sex with an inspiring address indicating that an educated and intellectual woman is much more likely to make a fine wife and mother than an uneducated one. By the understanding of psychology which a woman attains in her university life and studied she can build a much more happy home-like atmosphere, she argued. At the conclusion of the debate a lively free-for-all argument resulted but popular vote gave the decision to the women.

THE BASIS FOR RELIEF

The city of Medicine Hat has adopted a cash relief system, and put it on the basis of no-work-no-cash. In a country situated like Canada that is the only basis on which a relief system should be operated, or can be with justice and safety. There is everywhere ample work needing to be done to pay for all the relief that is required.

Two principles should govern the extension of public relief in Canada, and ultimately they will have to be applied to avoid the bankruptcy of cities, provinces, and perhaps the Dominion itself. They are:

Give no able-bodied man something for nothing;

Give every man at all times a chance to earn a decent living for himself and his family.

THE DEPENDENT PROVINCES

These depression years have completely altered the financial status of the provinces. Previous to that time a province stood on its own feet in the financial sense, borrowed money from private parties by issuing bonds or from the banks, on its own credit, without asking assistance from the national Government. It collected taxes, paid its bills, renewed loans it could not pay, and generally managed its money affairs as an independent and self-dependent unit.

Now the four western provinces are financial dependencies of the Dominion, while the older provinces are to a lesser degree in the same position. A few weeks ago Alberta's Government needed money. There wasn't any time wasted asking where to get it. The Premier headed straight to Ottawa, as the only source worth trying. Now it is again short of funds, and again the Premier is getting ready for another visit to Ottawa on the same mission.

The position of Alberta is typical of that of the western provinces, and the measure of the eastern provinces as well. The provinces are now relying upon the Dominion to do their financing for them, wholly so far as the western provinces are concerned. From self-dependence they have travelled clear around the circle and are now wards of the Dominion.

Obviously that is not a desirable set-up, and it is not one that can continue indefinitely. One way or another them provinces, and all the provinces, will have to get back on their own feet, and take care of their own financial requirements. Which seems to boil down to the proposition that this and the other provinces will have to collect more taxes from more sources, or else do without, or that there will have to be a complete new deal in public financing, with the money-issuing authority supplying public bodies with interest-free funds for public improvements.

Along one of these three roads a solution will have to be sought. That is one of the problems, and the most important, which the coming federal-provincial conference will have to deal with.

WINTER—IN OCTOBER

Winter in this part of the world is an unknown quantity. Nobody knows with any certainty beforehand when it will arrive or what it will be like when it gets here.

Sometimes it creeps upon us like the slow advance of an investing army, gradually lowering temperatures, providing the transition from fall conditions and leaving everyone to decide for himself when the change over really occurs. At such times we have "Lingering summer's parting blooms delayed" and autumn extending even up to Christmas. And occasionally, at intervals all too rare, we get one of those "open" winters that hardly deserves the name.

This winter is different. Decidedly so. It came without any preliminaries, and came with a "bang." Last week Albertans were going about minus their overcoats. This week they have been wearing the heaviest they had. The ground was bare on Saturday last. Now roads are blocked in all directions, cars in hundreds have been stalled in snow-banks, threshing has been suspended, snow plows are in use on highways and railways, and sweepers on street railway tracks, and the city streets are being sprinkled with cinders to keep pedestrians on their feet and motor cars under control. Rugby is "out," and hockey rinks are getting into shape. Northern fliers are taking off the wheels and putting on skids.

The change is general, not local. British Columbia is blanketed with snow and Vancouver has had a heavy frost. Alberta and Saskatchewan are measuring their drifts, and submit figures running all the way from seven feet to sixteen. A cold drizzle in Manitoba gave way to snow and wintry temperatures. Here the wind has been mainly from the north, and felt as though it came straight from the pole; but the weather sharps say the storm swept in, from the Pacific.

Wherever it came from and whatever caused it, there isn't any arguing about what this all means. Winter is conceded to have arrived—on Sunday last. The arrival is early, but not beyond precedent. There isn't any consolation, however, in looking up the precedents, and maybe we had better let them rest. The winter of 1919-20 also started in October—and nobody is longing for a repetition of that.

The chap who always wants to "see the end from the beginning" has a large field for usefulness just now. If he can tell us when the other end of winter is to get here a good many people would be interested in the information.

One way to secure better Sabbath observance in Alberta will be to withhold Social Credit dividends from those who do business on that day. Since the province is to distribute buying power sufficient for the necessities of life, no one will need to make money on Sunday.

Some newspapers which did their best to prevent any Liberal candidate getting elected in this province are now complaining because Alberta has no representative in the new federal cabinet. They may be accommodated later on. The one Liberal elected is without parliamentary experience. Time will give him that qualification. Then the worried ones may have a chance to show how anxious they are to have him in the Government.

From the Files of The Edmonton Bulletin

The new public hospital being constructed in Edmonton by the Rev. Sisters of Charity is nearing completion. The brickwork is finished and the woodwork is nearly finished. It is situated in the block which lies between Jasper and Victoria avenues and Tenth and Eleventh streets, and will be ready for occupation about Dec. 1st. The building is the largest, most substantial and most costly building in Edmonton, and is a credit architectually as well as for the purpose for which it was erected.

It has been rumored in Ottawa by the promoters of the British Pacific Railway that a syndicate of financiers of London and New York have contracted to supply the money for immediate construction of the road, provided the province of British Columbia and the city of Victoria guarantee a portion of the interest on the contemplated bond issue.

A cone of gold and a gold bar, weighing in all 3587 ounces, are at 150 Mile Creek, British Columbia, on the way to Montreal to be placed on exhibition. The cone contains 2435 ounces and is worth $41,857, the product of a 29 days' run at the famous Cariboo mine. The bar contains 1152 ounces, valued at $25,150, and is the clean up from a 40-day run at the Horse Fly mine, in the same vicinity. The whole world has been watching these mines and as this is a splendid indication of the wealth they contain waiting capital will no doubt flow into Cariboo.

Poems That Live

ALADDIN

When I was a beggarly boy,
And lived in a cellar damp,
I had not a friend nor a toy,
But I had Aladdin's lamp;
When I could not sleep for the cold,
I had fire enough in my brain,
And builded, with roofs of gold,
My beautiful castles in Spain!

Since then I have toiled day and night,
I have money and power good store,
But I'd give all my lamps of silver bright
For the one that is mine no more.
Take, Fortune, whatever you choose;
You gave, and may snatch again;
I have nothing I would pain me to lose,
For I own no more castles in Spain!

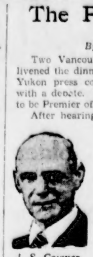
The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

Two Vancouver newspaper columnists enlivened the dinner of the British Columbia and Yukon press conference a week ago tonight, with a debate. The subject was "Why I ought to be Premier of British Columbia."

After hearing both gentlemen make a hash of the other fellow's case, the judge disqualified both and put it to the audience that he was better suited to be premier than either of the debaters. The audience agreed with the judge.



J. S. Cowper

Now that the federal election is over, the enquiry into the death of Constable Millar of Regina, who was shot dead during the attack upon the relief camp marchers, will proceed.

Millar was in plain clothes and among the attacked relievers when slain. He had a couple of guns in his hands. The circumstances led to this column making at the time a suggestion as to how Millar came to his death and by whom he was slain. The delay in bringing on the enquiry until the federal election was safely over lends color to the theory then advanced.

Generally speaking, a gun is dangerous to the man who carries it. Last week an elderly evangelist in Georgia got into an argument with a 16-year-old boy over a garden hose. Possibly the boy was cheeky. At any rate the preacher lost control of his temper, pulled out his gun and shot the boy dead. When a policeman came to arrest him, the preacher shot the officer in the heart, and was in turn seriously wounded by a second officer who put a bullet through the preacher's body.

Manners in northern Canada are not those of the Bible belt. But how much better had the preacher left his loaded six-shooter in the vestry, and tried the ancient recipe of "the soft answer that turneth away wrath."

The preacher won't hang for his crime. Preachers in Georgia get off as easily from murder charges as wives in Chicago who slay their husbands at the bridge table. But how much more seemly for a preacher to try the Biblical method instead of the Smith and Wesson method.

The Coming Ottawa Conference

By R. T. ELLIOTT, K.C.

There is some danger that the coming conference between the Ottawa government and the Provincial Premiers will be looked upon as a Christmas tree function, convened for the distribution of gifts.

Kept to its original purpose of modernizing the constitution of Canada so as to permit of the application of restoration of trade and development policies there would be substantial reason to hope that within a year the unemployment problem would have ceased to be acute and the volume of commerce, domestic and foreign, would have returned to the 1929 level.

Approached by practically unanimous action on the part of the Dominion and the Provinces, there is no doubt the British parliament would enact the repeal of the Senate so as to make the veto power about the same as that held by the House of Lords in England, except as regards the rights of minorities. Thus a measure passed twice by the Commons within eighteen months could become law notwithstanding the opposition of the Senate. Also it could be enacted that a senator should retire on attaining the full age of seventy-one years; but should draw for life an annual payment equal to the sessional indemnity at the time of retirement. This would remove the chief grounds for popular distrust of the Senate.

Removal of doubts and obscurities as regards the revenue powers of the Dominion and the Provinces could also be effected, and the powers of the Dominion to legislate on a national scale for the peace, order, and good government of Canada be defined with some degree of certainty—leaving only an undefined or possibly unrefined power to be exercised only in the event of war or of any real national emergency.

With an agenda restricted to these objects the conference may well accomplish just as notable a piece of work as was rendered by the assemblies which agreed on the provisions of the British North America Act.

Any wanderings afield, and any search for a Santa Claus will probably rob the conference of its usefulness in great measure.

People in Manitoba heard a "roaring noise" the other night, and next morning there was a hole in the ground. One theory favors the idea of an earthquake. But there was also, it will be recalled, a general election.—Vancouver Province.

Mr. Aberhart has been criticizing some Social Credit candidates of his party in the Dominion elections who promised that dividends would be distributed before Christmas. The offenders apparently are convinced that the intelligent electorate believe in Santa Claus. —Montreal Gazette.

Seventy or eighty years ago, Herbert Spencer complained of his own country, saying that it had "20,000 statutes which every Englishman was expected to know." "Every Englishman ought know," but England is an infant in the making of laws when compared with America, for we have not 20,000 statutes, but 2,400,000 of them, with Congress and the state legislatures adding to their number at the rate of 10,000 a year.—San Francisco Argonaut.

The Clerk of the House of Commons, Dr. Beauchesne, has called attention to the difficulty which will arise over "pairing" in the new House, owing to the preponderance of Liberals over Conservatives. Pairing is a custom followed to enable a member to absent himself, the member of the other party with whom he is "paired" refraining from voting to even matters up. It is one of those "good old customs" which would not suffer severely in the breach. —Toronto Globe.

Daily Menus

By DOCTOR FRANK McCOY

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for week beginning Sunday, November 3, 1933:

SUNDAY—Breakfast: Coddled eggs; Melba toast; applesauce. Dinner: Roast pork; mashed turnips; spinach, salad of head lettuce; baked peaches a la mode. Supper: Combination salad of lettuce, tomatoes and celery, glass of milk.

Dr. F. McCoy

MONDAY — Breakfast: Oatmeal, cooked at least one hour, and served with butter or cream, but no sugar. Lunch: Glass of grapejuice. Dinner: Vegetable soup; Salsbury steak, oyster plant; steamed carrots; lettuce salad, prune whip.

TUESDAY — Breakfast: Sliced pineapple and cottage cheese. Lunch: Wholewheat macaroni, seasoned with butter; cooked cucumbers; ripe olives. Dinner: Roast mutton; Brussels Sprouts; buttered beets; dish of Junket.

WEDNESDAY—Breakfast: French omelet; waffle (browned through); dish of berries (canned). Lunch: *Potato soup; cooked beet tops; salad of cold cooked asparagus. Dinner: Boiled lean beef; cooked string beans; baked parsnips; salad of vegetables (molded in Gelatin); peach whip.

THURSDAY—Breakfast: Wholewheat mush with milk or cream; baked apple. Lunch: Eggplant en casserole; McCoy salad; glass of milk. Dinner: Mushroom soup; broiled lamb chops; cooked Okra; cauliflower salad; pear sauce.

FRIDAY—Breakfast: Poached eggs on Melba toast; stewed figs. Lunch: Wholewheat bread and peanut butter sandwiches; combination salad (lettuce, celery, cucumbers). Dinner: Nonstarchy vegetable soup; broiled fish; spinach; carrots; salad of sliced tomatoes; no dessert.

SATURDAY—Breakfast: Toasted breakfast food, with milk or cream; stewed prunes. Lunch: Oranges or apples as desired; glass of milk. Dinner: Broiled steak with mushrooms; string beans; salad of celery and ripe olives; pineapple gelatin with cream.

*POTATO SOUP—Peel and dice potatoes to equal three cups and place over fire with three or four cups of water. Cook until tender and add about three cupfuls of milk or thin cream and the desired amount of chopped parsley. Serve with thin strips of Melba toast. By using celery instead of potatoes you have a delicious non-starchy soup.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: Mr. H. J. C. writes: "Several people have told me that whenever they are rid of intestinal gas that backache, disappears. Another person was telling me that he discovered that whenever a headache is present, the enema will end it quickly. Thought you might be interested in these observations."

ANSWER: The presence of excessive gas in the large intestine is very often the cause of backache. Sometimes these pains are a reflex, being caused by pressure brought on by the accumulation of gas. I often recommend the enema for headache and in the average headache, the patient will be relieved within half an hour after taking the enema and then resting for a short time in a darkened room. The headache resulting from constipation which is so rapidly relieved by taking the enema, is brought on by reflex action. I am always glad to hear from readers' experiences such as those you give and I wish to thank you for your courtesy in forwarding them to me.

QUESTION: Mrs. I. Q. asks: "I do not have an oven for broiling and am wondering how I may broil meats. I have sinus trouble and thought perhaps there is some other kind of food I may use instead of the meat."

ANSWER: Try pan-broiling your meat, cooking it in a dry frying pan, and turning it rapidly to prevent burning. Do not add oil, lard, fat, or grease. I have not found a satisfactory substitute for meat when the patient has sinus trouble. Most of the substitutes commonly used instead of meat such as cheese, milk, eggs or nuts will not bring about the same successful results which follow the moderate use of meat and the patient gets along better in every way if meat is used as the main protein during the treatment of sinus trouble. I do not know if you have ever had a copy of an article on SINUS TROUBLE which you may obtain by writing to me in care of this newspaper. The article will be sent to anyone asking for it. Enclose one large, self-addressed envelope and ten cents.

Dr. Frank McCoy's great book "The Fast Way to Health," just revised, is now ready for sale in plain, easily understandable language.

A limited supply on hand at The Bulletin — a copy will be mailed postpaid on receipt of $1.00. Just address The Bulletin.

If it is desired to communicate direct with Dr. McCoy, readers are requested to enclose postage and direct to Dr. Frank McCoy, 629 South Ardmore Ave., Los Angeles. Letters and replies will be mailed direct from that address.

Horoscope

By MARY BLAKE

On November 2 frankness will prevent many misunderstandings or erroneous impressions. Pleasure will dominate most of the thoughts and activities of those born today. They have only to be thrown into close contact, so it might be a good policy not to let an over amount of seriousness control you. Married and engaged couples, and those under Cupid's spell, must avoid any tendency to quibble-bandying, if they expect harmonious conditions to prevail.

If a woman and November 2 is your birthday, you are never at a loss what to say, or how to express it. It might be wise not to confide too freely your personal affairs to casual acquaintances. You have some excellent ideas, which, if put to practical use, ought to be money makers.

The child born on November 2 possibly, when it reaches its teens, will show an inclination to follow an artistic career. If it displays sufficient ability, it deserves to be encouraged.

If a man and November 2 is your natal day, your oratorical powers, if developed, might prove to be one of your most valuable assets.

Fragments of History

By FRED WILLIAMS

On this date in 1802 there died at Montreal an artist whose works are now considered treasures, but who had a life of romance which ended in tragedy. John Ramage was an Irishman; he came to Halifax about 1770; he got into debt there; he went to Boston, was a lieutenant in The Loyal Irish Volunteers, serving with distinction, and returned to Halifax after the evacuation of Boston in 1776. The records of Trinity church, Boston, show that John Ramage was married to Maria Victoria Ball, nine days before he left, but when he arrived at Halifax his bride was not with him. It was a case of a young heiress becoming infatuated with a handsome young artist without her parents' consent. Ramage did not apparently take his marriage as seriously, because some time after he was married in St. Paul's church, Halifax, to a Miss Taylor. When the news of this reached Boston, the first wife, through her parents, entered action against Ramage in the Court of Marriage and Divorce of Nova Scotia. There is no record as to what happened. Probably the divorce was granted, anyway Maria disappeared from the scene.

What happened to the former Mrs. Taylor is a mystery. She probably realized that she had made a mistake and let it go at that. Ramage went to New York and there won a third wife, Catherine Collins, the daughter of a wealthy merchant, and there followed years of luxury and high living. But Ramage could not stand prosperity. He had made a miniature of President George Washington, which is now priceless, and it was considered an honor to be his patron. His debts piled up, sheriff's officers fledged him in the debtors' jail, he got out only to have new writs served and in despair he ran off to Montreal where he also he was put in a jail and lamented that he had not stayed in that at New York. His appeals to a Mr. Payne were unknown. He had his same lives in his paintings.

JOHN BULL SHOWS THE WAY

Facetious people throughout the world claim John Bull is a "slow poke," plodding along, "muddling through," never in a hurry. John just smiles. But at intervals one of his boys brings home the automobile speed championship of the world, and another returns with an aviation record, and so on. There isn't any fuss made about these things, which are regarded merely as incidents of the day. The records may be beaten tomorrow by some other country's speeders; but what of that? John's young men are "in the swim" anyway.

And now, by way of variety, the old gentleman is showing the world how a general election campaign may be run off. In three weeks the whole business will be finished. While many Canadians wish for something similar in their Federal elections. During the long-drawn-out campaign the people became utterly weary of oratorical reiteration. After the "regular" speeches had been delivered by way of platform, press and radio, the electors were tired of the policies of each party, but day after day and night after night they suffered an infliction of the same arguments, the same exhortations, the same old promises, until finally election day came as a relief.—Toronto Globe.

A QUEEN "BESS" LETTER

Reference has been made more than once during the present Italo-Ethiopian embroglio to the long-standing friendship between Great Britain and Ethiopia but probably few in this country realize that the friendship dates back several centuries and that Queen Elizabeth, on one occasion at least, wrote at some length to the Then Emperor of Ethiopia asking him to receive with courtesy one of her friends and promising similar courtesy to any of his subjects should they at any time desire to visit England. The letter is fully set forth in a book "The Letters of Queen Elizabeth," recently published in England by G. B. Harrison and is of interest chiefly on the Elizabethan period, and the quaint and somewhat stilted phrases in which it is couched reveal a high ideal as to the cordial relations which should exist between friendly nations. Oddly enough, the letter contains reference to "the league." The Emperor being reminded that "esthence Almighty God the Highest Creator and Governor of the World, hath ordained unto Kings and governors his vice-regents over the whole earth their designed portions and limits to be ruled and administered by them; by this gift hath established among them a certain law of brotherly friendness and universal league by them to be observed."—London Advertiser.

FINANCING ELECTIONS

The vast majority of people have felt that the cost of elections and the financing of election campaigns to a comparatively few, and the latter attend to the business in what seems to them the most practical way. People do not call on us in any other sphere of life. They pay their taxes, their church dues, their lodge fees, their contribution to recreational associations and others, because they know that the money is needed and that it is right that they should make their fair contribution.

It has never occurred to the same people that they should similarly support the political party with whose policies they agree. They have shut their eyes to the patent fact that financing campaign funds—or have occasionally condemned it—while they themselves, the great body of the rank and file of the parties, neglected to give the financial support which they should reasonably provide.

One of the good features of the progressive movement some years ago was the raising of campaign funds by a general appeal to party supporters. It is said that, in one constituency, contributions were obtained from enough people to elect the candidate. The C.C.F. obtains its campaign funds by a general appeal to its supporters.

It has been suggested that Parliament might well vote the money to pay a certain amount of the election expenses of the different parties, in addition to the government provided some of the campaign funds—with due regard to the relative strength of the group; and if the people contributed generally to the support of their respective parties.—Winnipeg Free Press.

MAYOR CONS CIVIC RECORD AT MEETING

Second Ratepayers' Meeting Addressed at South Side

Reaffirming his stand on the Calgary Power question by declaring he objected to the city power plant being made dependent in any way on a supply of juice from the company's plant, and telling ratepayers that a change in the sinking fund plan would mean a saving to the city of five or six mills, Mayor J. A. Clarke addressed the second of the annual ratepayers' meetings when he spoke in the South Side library, Thursday night.

Attendance was poor, the crowd numbering about 20, including speakers and newspapermen.

FINANCIAL STATUS

Turning his attention to the city's financial status, he declared that part of the $500,000 federal loan given Edmonton had been used to reduce the city's overdraft.

In this connection, Mayor Clarke was strongly critical about attempts made to keep city business secret, "at least as far as I am concerned." While in Ottawa this spring, he had been told by the federal government that the $500,000 loan had been handed over to the province for delivery to the city "without any strings attached."

When he had asked provincial authorities what had happened to the $500,000 he had been told it had been handed over to the city and had subsequently found it had been placed in the city's current account, he said. "It just goes to show how the mayor was kept in the dark about something that must have been quite transparent to at least 20 people in the city hall," he complained.

NOT DESPERATE

The city's financial situation was not exactly desperate, the mayor claimed. Liabilities totalled $3,577,000. As against this figure, assets totalled $3,981,000, of which $2,500,000 was represented by uncollected taxes.

"Some people say we are going to domination and the bow-wows, but I say we are not," Mayor Clarke declared.

Touching on his plan to suspend sinking fund payments totalling $115,000 this year, Mayor Clarke admitted that a better proposal had been advanced which provided for the equalization of annual payments over the next 15 or 20 years.

Thief With Gall Goes Too Far

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1.—Victor Molinsky tried to carry things too far. He stole a new club bag from an automobile, then took it to the store where it was purchased and tried to get a refund. Convicted, he was sentenced to two months in jail.

Nelson's Kin Dies At London

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Miss Horatia Nelson, 89-year-old grand-niece of Great Britain's naval hero, Lord Nelson, died last night. She had been ill four days of pneumonia.

In this way, 1 e largee and smaller payments over the succeeding years would be equalized, thus lessening the burden on the taxpayers during large-payment years. Such equalization, he said, would mean a reduction of five or six mills in the tax rate.

SHOULD CO-OPERATE

Only by co-operation with the new Alberta and Dominion governments could Edmonton expect any reduction in the huge interest charges made on civic borrowings.

Commissioner David Mitchell struck an optimistic note in his lengthy address on the nine-month ratepayers' report. Collection of taxes totalled 90 out of 100 per cent., a favorable showing when compared to collections of 110 per cent. in 1929, a good collection year.

The commissioner referred to the crushing burden of relief, which cost $1,000,000 a year, of which the city paid one-third. He said that all possible assistance was being given the unemployed, and the city was not forcing forfeiture of tax-arrear property.

MORE MONEY

Ald. J. W. Findlay declared discontinuance of the Calgary Power agreement would mean more money being spent in Edmonton and district through the greater use of coal.

Referring to the proposed suspension of sinking fund payments, Ald. Jas. East reminded citizens that the debenture debt would have to be paid some time, and a postponement meant an increase in the debt.

Taking the platform for a few minutes, Ald. A. Bisset, chairman of the civic power committee, criticized a statement made by Mayor Clarke that some of the aldermen were pro-Calgary Power or were working in the interests of the company. "He'd better think again," declared Ald. Bisset.

Ald. Margaret Craig objected to what she called over-publicized reports showing mounting relief costs. The interest burden, she claimed, was far more alarming as it represented 57 cents of the taxpayers' dollar.

CFRN MAKES 1ST BIRTHDAY BOW TO CITY

Today, CFRN, the station of the Sunwapta Broadcasting Company, Limited of Edmonton, is celebrating its first anniversary . . . with special anniversary programs.

This popular Edmonton station has in the short space of one year attained a very definite place in the radio-world of listeners in Central Alberta. It has always been the policy of CFRN to foster Edmonton talent, and to feature as much as possible radio entertainment of personal interest, feeling that in this respect they will more closely approximate the requirements of the district which it serves.

One of the highlights in the beginning of CFRN's presentations to the public in their second year is the inauguration of their new transcribed programs, which introduce to the listeners the voices of the Pacific coasts stage, screen and radio stars. . . . The further development of this station will be well worth watching, for undoubtedly CFRN is entering upon a bigger and better field of radio's presentation. The news you like to hear, the artists you know and admire, and the things you are interested in . . . all yours at the turn of the dial to 1260 kilocycles.

CFRN SERVES AN INCREASING PUBLIC NEED

In the short span of twelve months, CFRN has forged ahead as a live medium for releasing programs that express the thoughts and expression of the communities it serves.

With up-to-the-minute facilities which assure quality of reproduction at the listener's receiving set, CFRN today serves an ever-growing audience. Within the year has been new modern studios designed, built and placed in service on the second floor of the Canadian Pacific building. On October 15th, CFRN opened a new suite of offices with a program production department and continuity department, located on the mezzanine floor of the building.

Within the next few weeks an entirely new antenna system will be placed in service at the transmitting plant of CFRN—with a new mast 140 feet high it is anticipated that CFRN service area will be greatly increased.

Daily Scalp Massage Excellent For Hair

By GLADYS GLAD

Some years ago, I am told, a young woman mysteriously lost all her hair overnight. This was after she had gone to bed in perfect health, but awoke to find her hair completely and totally gone. And more amazing still, no trace of her hair could be found in the bed or about the room. The poor girl must have gotten an awful shock when she first caught sight of herself that morning. And whoever the gal who wouldn't be shocked at suddenly finding herself completely bald!

MARGARET LINDSAY

Of course, women today don't have to worry much about becoming bald, but they do have the problem of thinning hair with which to contend. Women often become highly alarmed at the sight of a few hairs in their brush and comb. They immediately begin to believe that they are approaching baldness. But really they needn't, for the normal scalp diagnosticates to the hairs growing from it.

It is a good idea for women to attempt to develop the scalp muscles and thus increase their power to grip the hair firmly. Daily massaging of the scalp is excellent for this purpose. Oddly enough, few women indulge enough to realize the excellent benefits that accrue from systematic scalp massaging. They'll spend large sums of money for various scalp tonics, and yet they'll neglect the most effective hair tonic of all—the blood!

NOURISHED BY BLOOD

The hair roots in the scalp are surrounded by minute blood vessels. It is from these numerous tiny blood vessels that the hair roots obtain their nourishment. The health and beauty of the hair demand upon the quality of nourishment that these hair roots absorb, and if the circulation in the scalp is sluggish that quantity is bound to be small and the hair will quickly become dull and lifeless from lack of sufficient nutrition.

To massage your scalp correctly, place your thumbs at the hairline at the nape of your neck, with one thumb on each side of the spinal column. Spread your fingers over the top of your head, covering as wide an area as you can. Then, pressing the fingers firmly, rotate the scalp until it moves freely. Continue to move the scalp over your skull in slow, circular movements and shift your fingers until every part of your scalp has been treated.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Bluing Rinse

Jean: The bluing used in the bluing rinse for black hair is not the ordinary laundry bluing. There is a special hair bluing designed for this purpose that is carried in most good beauty shops.

Figure

Ruth: The reducing course outlined in my "New Figure" booklet has indeed been proved a healthful and effective one. This course takes off about 8 to 10 pounds in two weeks, and includes reduction of the pelt, waist, hips, abdomen, buttocks and thighs.

EDITOR'S NOTE: To obtain Miss Glad's pamphlet on "The New Figure" write, care of Edmonton Bulletin, enclosing a stamped-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, and ten cents in coin for each, to cover cost of printing and handling.

The Blonde Countess

By H. O. Yardley

CHAPTER 30

BUT Greenleaf wouldn't tell his friends, not yet. Mysteriously he put Jake to work at helping with supper, and while his assistant was opening cans, telephoned to a dentist whom he refused to divulge.

"Regular detective story, you are," Jake grumbled.

Greenleaf said, soberly enough that he was planning his hopes to something too exciting for him to talk of it. "The hunch hasn't, as you say, much to go on in this case. If anything has been overlooked, I've forgotten it was by someone else." And with this unsatisfactory answer Jake had to be content, until, their not unsatisfactory supper finished, and the dishes piled in the sink for the cleaning woman to do next day, they returned to Greenleaf's study. There were joined there shortly by Sarah Kemble, a lady never before seen by Jake and promising him the wildest surprise and curiosity. Could she be the mysterious woman in Greenleaf's life? Jake subscribed to the romantic notion that there was such a one in every man's life. But it was hard to believe that Sarah filled so emotional a role in any man's scheme of existence.

Instead, she made a long and detailed report of the day's activities which showed nothing of recognizable significance. The Countess had gone out in the afternoon, for what purpose Sarah could not discover. Sarah had been forced to stick to her typewriter because she had been left a pile of work to do, and because a maid had been constantly in and out of the Countess' room. It looked very much as though the Countess had left Sarah under surveillance.

Greenleaf listened gloomily to this recital while Jake, alert as a fox terrier, cocked his head and endeavored to put two and two together.

"Nothing much in that," Greenleaf said, frowning. "I want you now to go back to the afternoon of your drive and run over the details again. Don't overlook anything. I want your impressions. Just how did the Countess impress you at various times, for instance as she came out of the legations? How did she look? Preoccupied? Indifferent? Did she look at you with any suspicion?"

Sarah sat some moments endeavoring to answer these questions. Then, tentatively, "There was nothing marked, surely. I should say that she was watching me attentively most of the afternoon, though, except when she made her purchases. She wasn't thinking of me then."

"And on the drive into the country?" Greenleaf asked.

"She was thoughtful, preoccupied rather than watchful," said Sarah. "She roused herself to point out certain views, a flaming tree, or a glimpse of the hills. But her heart wasn't in it, I think. She was merely being polite."

"And what," asked Greenleaf frowning, "did she tell the chauffeur? Any destination?"

"No, she said to get into the country and off the main roads."

"And did he go without further directions?"

Sarah was sure that he had. The Countess had said nothing further, hadn't even protested at a mile or so of rough going. The driver had pushed rapidly . . . fast and soon the road grew better.

"He seemed to know the road then?" Greenleaf asked.

"Absolutely. There were turns but he never hesitated."

Jake had been listening to all this absolutely seeming at times oblivious of asking something, though he manfully forbore.

"And, then at last you came to this filling station. What was it like?"

Sarah described it. It was a small store set off at the end of nowhere, no other building within sight. She remembered thinking it a queer place for business. Not many cars could pass there in the course of a day. There was the red gasoline pump, the little shack with a few articles on display in the windows, and a sign or two advertising somebody's oil, tacked to the unpainted boards. Tree, came almost to the back of it and a steep hillside rose some hundreds of feet, a hillside thickly wooded, though the falling foliage gave glimpses of gray boulders in the thinner spaces. It had seemed a wild spot, and lonely. I had the impression somehow that he limped—no not exactly that —but had a stiff knee or was suffering from a strained leg. That's just an impression."

"Good," said Greenleaf. "Would you say he'd seen the chauffeur before?"

Sarah frowned in the effort to recall the scene. Then she turned a puzzled eye upon him.

"You know he didn't speak to him as though he knew him—no smile or anything. And yet—and yet he didn't seem surprised or eager. I remember vaguely thinking that he couldn't often see great expensive cars way off in that place. He merely looked monominitially at the chauffeur, and the chauffeur said, 'Give me 10.'

"Where were you?" Greenleaf asked. "On which side of the car?"

"On the side nearest the pump. I could see the hose reaching to the tank."

"And the chauffeur?"

"He stood near the front of the car, directly before my eyes. He read an indifferent glance at the meter on the pump when it's attendant hung up the hose."

"And then?" Greenleaf asked.

"Then the chauffeur said he wanted a receipt."

"Yes?"

"And the attendant pulled out a book like a check book and scrawled something on it—10 gallons of gas, $2.20."

"You could see this?"

"It was right beside the window I remember that he wrote quickly though not very legibly. Then he smoothed the paper out and handed it to the chauffeur."

"Smoothed it out?" Greenleaf asked. "Why?"

Sarah fixed her eyes on the flames and sat absorbed in the effort to recall the scene. Then at last, "It's funny, it wasn't as though the receipt was smooth and flat like a leaf in a book. And I don't remember that he tore it out. It was folded, I think, and he held it with one hand while he scrawled the receipt. Then he straightened it, as you would a crumpled bill, and handed it to the chauffeur, who glanced at it, folded it, slipped it into his pocket, paid the man the exact money, two $1 bills and two dimes, pulled on his gauntlets and got into the car."

Greenleaf nodded approvingly. "You are sure nothing else passed between them?"

"Yes, quite."

"And you could see the receipt? It was a regular form?"

"Yes, I could see that. It read 'Received and then a blank space, 'For' and another blank. Then a place for the signature. The attendant simply scrawled 'Ten gas $2.20' and signed his name I suppose. I couldn't read what it was—like a cashier's signature on a check."

Greenleaf remained silent a long time after that, his brows deeply frowned, Jake noted. There was a speculative gleam in his eye. Finally he said, "And all this time the Countess sat back looking on?"

"As far as I could tell she simply gazed out of the window and never looked at the attendant or the chauffeur. I'm sure she didn't move or I'd have noticed it."

"And then, Greenleaf said, 'you turned around and drove home. Didn't the Countess give any directions?"

"No," Sarah was sure of that. "And over the same piece of rough road."

"Yes."

"And she didn't protest?"

"No, not a word. Didn't even mention it."

"Just how rough was it?"

Sarah thought it quite rough. She'd been forced to hold the loop placed for that purpose under the window. And the chauffeur had driven with care, though rapidly enough.

Your Children -

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Lida's grandma died yesterday. She died in another city and the child's parents could not decide last night whether to take their six-year-old daughter on with them or not. Lida so adored the sweet lady so full of fun and little stories and treats and was now going about big eyed and bewildered about her dear ly beloved Mary, as she called her, going away and coming back—ever.

O. R. Barton

"I think I'd rather would want to know she is there," whispered Lida's mother.

She won't understand what it is all about, so why take her?" said her father.

Maybe when she grows up she will wonder why she did not see her," said mother.

She will forget in why make her go and spend for the next week or month? You are trying to be a stoic yourself now for her sake, so why add to your own misery and hers by more heartbreak?" said her father.

So Lida was left at home with a cousin who plans to fill her next few days with as many diversions as possible. The child goes to school as usual.

A teacher says: "I think it is time that children were being taught that death is a natural phenomenon to be accepted without too much hysterical emotion. My child should be allowed to dramatize the death of a pet, or a bird or animal killed on the road. From birth we keep the secret of death away from children, or rather, make a secret of it —thus never preparing them for a personal loss.

A grandmother sighs, "I am selfish enough to want my family about me when I go—all of them. I might be conscious and would grieve to know that all the children had been kept away. In the old days the children and babies went to funerals and it never hurt them. Anyway, haven't the dead still some rights. Is it too much to ask that a child might cry a little for a day or two? Anyway, I think that it never hurts to balance joy and sorrow in children.

Two arguments in favor of letting the child go through with it, but from different points of view, of course.

Personally, I believe it depends on the age and temperament of the child. But if the teacher is right, and we are to influence the child's views on death, then we ourselves will first have to bind our hearts and look at it with some fraction of their philosophy.

Strange how we advocate so many things for children that we could not do ourselves. Grandma's view is natural and not unreasonably selfish. She certainly says something when she figures that sorrow has a definite place in life.

But I think Lida's parents were right. The dramatics of the usual funeral are bewildering and upsetting to the child. The actual interment, if attended, may fix an unbearable apprehension for you.

When I die I may be lonely, but I don't want any grandchildren under twelve there. I shall love them too much for that.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing, you have good reason to try your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ½ pint of hot water and a little sugar, if desired. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easier and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to mix and pleasant to take. Anyone who is deafened or has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

Modern Music Arranged For Club Program

Modern composers and their works will interest members of the Women's Musical Club at the program arranged for Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in the Masonic Temple when the soloists will contribute numbers which are the compositions of musicians, of modern times.

The program will open with a short discussion on the works of modern composers by Mrs. Jack Oliver, Mrs. James Walker, and Mr. Herbert G. Turner, will sing, Graham Dunlop will play piano solos, and there will be selected numbers by the women's instrumental trio, Mrs. Florence Shaw, violin; Mrs. P. McHaffie, cellist, and Miss Margaret Ashley, pianist.

The following program has been arranged:

Soprano—The Pilgrim's Song, Tchaikowsky; Mrs. James Walker.

Tenor—(a) A Song Of India, Rimsky-Korsakov; (b) The Little Island, Rachmaninoff; (c) The Slumber Song, Grechaninoff—Herbert G. Turner.

Piano—Barcarolle (June), Troika (November), Tschaikowsky; Ian Graham Dunlop.

Soprano—(a) On the Steppe, Gretchaninoff; (b) None But the Lonely Heart, Tschaikowsky—Mrs. James Walker.

Tenor—(a) Thou'rt Lovely As a Flower, (b) The Asra, Rubenstein —Herbert G. Turner.

Instrumental Trio—Selected—Miss Florence Shaw, violin; Mrs. P. McHaffie, cello; Miss Margaret Ashley, piano.

Accompanists will be Mrs. Katherine Garside and Mr. Henry Atack.

Edmonton Juvenile Orange Lodge, No. 115, meeting Friday at 7:00 p.m. in the Orange Hall, for election of officers.

Eastern Art Has Harmony

"The Oriental has created art possessing greater harmony and unity than that of the Occidental," Mr. H. W. Hadley, M.A.B. Educ. quoted from "Artist" in opening his first of a series of lectures on Chinese and Japanese art at the university on Thursday evening.

The essential difference between European and Chinese art is that the latter is non-realistic and is based on some hing thought or conceived and not on the visual picture of nature. Observations are dissolved, fused into a mental conception and it is from that conception that the drawing or painting is made.

Buddhism has set and determined the manner and expression of Eastern art. There, too, Confucianism with its regulated system of life has also regulated art by a series of principles.

Pictorial art shows the movement of the spirit or spiritual rythm. A skeleton of the design is made with the brush, the use of which demand, great exactness of control.

The colors chosen must be appropriate to the object and often three or four colors are used. Due to the practice of copying of classical artists the development of Eastern art has been arrested.

Buddhism is, like Christianity, an evolutionary religion and regards all forms in nature as having a spirit and the resulting tendency is to fuse all surroundings with the spirit of the object to be painted. The temples were early sponsors of art and the first artists were priests. At about the year 1200 secular art may be said to have begun.

Discussing forms of art Mr. Hedley referred especially to sculpture. Early sculpture was done in clay or wood, and show the Buddha, or saints connected with worship. Buddha, seated upon carved lotus blossoms, haloed, and set in front of finely carved screens were the first works done, showing an amazing understanding of the principles of composition; all minor details invariably subordinate to the major features.

Several works reveal the fact that actual human models have been used and these give a very life-like appearance.

Oriental art has always been pure expression and has eclipsed Western art in subtlety of color handling, design technique and in the handling of masses.

Dr. Harold Orr introduced the speaker to the audience.

ESTABLISHED 270 YEARS AGO

the social round . . . .

RECENTLY, in this most elegant column, we told the story of Ghandi, the monkey. We had met Ghandi cavorting in someone's garden, with a little boy attached to the other end of his long lead rope, but then we weren't quite sure why Ghandi had been chosen to leave his native sunny India and adventure to more northern climes. He was enjoying life—that was evident. But what monkey doesn't? Now we learn that Ghandi, in company with 400 other monkeys, joined a ship's cargo en route to Java. One lonely youth was appointed to be the guardian angel of this barrel of monkeys, to give them food and drink, and hold their paws when they didn't feel well in that hazardous crossing of the great wide ocean. His reward was one monkey. The one monkey is Ghandi. Let us hope that theirs has become one of those lasting friendships of mute understanding and deep sympathy . . . and always will be!

It must have been that nostalgiac loneliness of the prairies that inspired the townsfolk of a small settlement in the southern part of the province to name their main street Timbuckteo, a visitor from old England reflected as she spoke enthusiastically of motoring all through Alberta, and visiting its cities and towns. "Only the funny part of it was," she explained, "some way or other the last part of the word must have been knocked off and it did look so strange standing there, just 'Tim Buck.' I couldn't quite understand at first—the spelling and everything—and then I thought of how the people of Canada must sometimes long for an outlet to far places! Now, would you have disillusioned her?" —E.R.B.

Women Ask For Official Appointments

To have representation in all governing bodies is the fundamental principle of the Council of Women in Canada, and special discussion regarding the desire for the appointment of a woman cabinet minister in the new Social Credit government, and the appointment of a woman police magistrate, took place at the meeting of the Local Council of Women in Edmonton on Thursday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. E. T. Bishop occupied the chair, and discussion rose out of the reports of the recent provincial executive meeting held in Calgary, at which Mrs. T. Taylor, vice-president of the Edmonton Council, was representative. Resolutions pertaining to these matters especially, presented at the meeting from the Edmonton council, were reviewed.

Reports of various officers indicated the extensive work being done by the group in the fields of education, health and housing problems.

Mrs. I. A. Scouten, convener of cinema and printed matter, was appointed head of a committee to investigate the productions of certain plays on the legitimate stage.

Mrs. E. T. Bishop, president, and Mrs. W. J. Ross were appointed to represent the local council at a meeting on November 6, arranged by the Women's International League in preparation for their annual peace conference on November 22.

In conclusion, members were advised to avail themselves of the opportunity to hear Dr. Oscar Olson, founder of the study circle idea, who will lecture on "Modern Adult Education in Sweden," in room 158, in the Medical building of the university when he visits the city on Thursday, November 7.

BAZAAR WILL AID SOCIAL SERVICE WORK

Mrs. J. H. Wark and Mrs. H. W. White are conveners for the bazaar arranged by members of Allenby Chapter, O. E. S., to be held in the Masonic Temple on Saturday. Luncheon will be served at noon with Mrs. White, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Macbeth in charge, and afternoon tea will remain arrangements for tea. Visitors calling during the afternoon will be received by Mrs. E. Clarke, Mrs. Hutton, Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Rasmussen.

Proceeds of the affair will be used for the chapter's program of benevolent work to be carried out during the winter. Those who will be in charge of the various booths where linens, babies' clothes, novelties, home cooking, candy and miscellaneous articles will be most attractively displayed, are Mrs. Harper, Mrs. Lambeth, Mrs. W. Morrish, Mrs. Champion, Mrs. Norquay, Mrs. Murdoch, Mrs. Dey, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Sinclair, Mrs. Willis, Mrs. S. Campbell and Mrs. Storey, hostess. There were about fifty members and their friends present at the affair, which was arranged to assist with the club welfare work at Christmas. The committee was comprised of Mrs. T. Macdonald, Mrs. D. Revell, Mrs. F. F. McCall, Mrs. W. J. Kelly, Mrs. N. R. Lindsay, Mrs. Munro and Mrs. H. H. Ross.

What's What

Question — Please let me know correct mourning wear (not too elaborate). I have the black I wore to the funeral and nothing else but white or colored clothes.
WIDOW.

Answer—When mourning is worn at all it should be correct in every detail. Lace, velvet, glossy satin are not mourning. Suede or dull kid shoes are worn; hosiery should be of close weave. Bright jet ornaments are incorrect, although dull jet is permissible.

It is not unusual for a woman in deep mourning to attend joyous social functions where the funeral garments are as inappropriate as those worn by Saxe's "Mourner a la Mode," whom he met at a party:

—Suffering sorrow
Too deep for the tongue to express—
Or why had she chosen to borrow
So much from the language of dress?

In the first summer after her bereavement a widow may wear all white (without lace or embroidery).

Question—I am inviting a girl (Miss B.) to a football game at our college, which is fifty miles from the town. Do I have to send her return railroad fare? Do I have to take her to dinner after the game? I'd love to do both, but I'm on a small allowance. My mother is a widow of limited means and she has to pay all my college expenses.
A. B.

Answer—Miss B. should pay her own fare. Since you cannot afford to take her to dinner at a good restaurant, say goodbye to her at the college station—it is quite all right.

Don't Abandon Your Baby For Business

DEAR MISS DIX—My wife and I have been having a controversy over whether or not she should go to work outside of the home. We have a seven-months-old baby whom we both love dearly. We want to make our child's life a happy one, one on which she can look back without feeling that she has been cheated. Here are our arguments:

Dorothy Dix

The wife says: I have had special training in clerical work and feel as if I am wasting my time doing housework. My husband makes a living for us, but the money that I could earn would give us many luxuries and comforts that we have to do without. Also, I enjoyed my work and I felt more up-to-date, more in touch with the news of the world and more pepped up when I worked in an office.

The husband says: I feel that if we hire some one to care for the baby that she will not look to my wife for the things that all children expect of their mothers. Also, I feel a man's natural desire to support his family and be the head of the house. Yet I feel that if I refuse to let her go and do the work she loves that I would be as selfish as she would be if she would ask me to stay at home and do the housework. I make a very moderate salary and out of that I get her everything that I can possibly manage, but naturally she wants the things that she was able to have before she married. Please help us to settle this vexed question. HUSBAND AND WIFE.

Answer:

Page Solomon, for it would take no less wisdom than he possessed to know what was the wise thing and the right thing to do in a case like yours. It makes one sigh for the good old simple days when there wasn't any problem about what a wife should do. She knew that her destiny was the cookstove and the cradle and she settled down to it with no longing glances toward a mahogany-topped desk.

As I have remarked many times, being a woman is the most complicated job on earth and every day it gets more and more involved. For a woman's emotional life always clashes with her business life and each one unfits her for the other and makes her dissatisfied with the other. Here is an illustration of it in this girl who spent time and money fitting herself for a clerical job, who was stimulated by her life in an office, who enjoyed working with others, who liked her pay envelope and the luxuries it brought her.

But all of that didn't keep her from falling in love and getting married and having a baby. And now she is bored with housework and baby-tending and she feels that with her brains and training she is fitted for better work than a servant's and she needs the money that she could so easily earn at congenial labor.

And here is the husband who wants to be the provider and the head of the house and for his wife to be satisfied in the kitchen and the nursery and with what he can give her. And this is the biggest complication of all—the baby. So what? Who knows?

More money will ease the husband's burden and perhaps give the baby a better environment in which to live, but business is a jealous mistress and any woman who goes into it must give her first thoughts, her best energies to her job. Moreover, a husband who has a wife who works outside of the home must often pinch-hit for her in it and make allowances for the nerves and exhaustion of a woman who has had a hard day at the office and whose boss has been grumpy.

And nothing on earth can make up to a child for not having been reared by its mother and not having had the divine love and patience that only a mother can give. Money cannot hire any one who can take a mother's place. And the poorest child who has a mother's hand to guide it, a mother's voice to teach it, a mother's breast to flee to with its little troubles, a mother's heart to understand it, a mother's lips to kiss its hurts and make them well, is better off and has a better chance in the world than the little millionaire who is turned over to the rearing of servants and governesses and tutors.

I am firmly convinced that no woman has a right to have a baby unless she is going to give it her personal attention.

DOROTHY DIX.

Minute Make-Ups

Hair for evening seems to be merely a setting for what one wears in it. Aigrettes in a pinwheel with diamonds in the centre are pinned at the side of the head in one elaborate evening coiffure. Substitute plumes instead of aigrettes if you wish.

What To Do

How to be popular in the office is a question that each girl asks at one time or another. Every one of us yearns to be liked and we may be if we attend to certain little points of good taste.

Fairness to all, courtesy always—especially to those seeking an interview with one of the officers and in answering telephone calls—taking one's share of responsibility, consideration for office comrades, these are all good roads to popularity and success. Don't cry coquettish ways in an office—don't be familiar with superiors. Dress simply, though as smartly as you can, discourage your friends from telephoning you at the office and don't ask favors except under extraordinary circumstances.

Adds Zest to the Meal

"SALADA" TEA

Seasoning Adds Zest To Many Plain Dishes

By MARY E. DAGUE

On days I am bored with life and three meals a day, I go out into the kitchen and experiment with seasoning. I cannot emphasize too often the opportunities for cook's amusement and family pleasure that lie in your condiment pots and jars.

Sister Mary

Of course, you must use gumption in choosing seasoning. Don't kill the flavor of your food with your cinnamon or allspice or pepper. But while the soup that has been salted with too heavy a hand often seems like a tragedy, the tasteless dish is even more so. Desserts, candies and sweets of all kinds gain in flavor if a few grains of salt are added. Any combination containing milk or cream requires salt. Even coffee is more delicious if a bit of salt goes into the funnel.

SUGAR HELPS VEGETABLES

Sugar is another everyday seasoning that works wonders when judiciously used. Unless vegetables are fresh from the garden a little sugar is needed to heighten their natural sweetness. Tomatoes must always have a dash of sugar. Roasts develop a richer flavor when a bit of sugar is rubbed into the surface. All dressings and sauces containing lemon juice or vinegar need some sugar.

Both sugar and salt are helpful in blending several flavors into a smooth combination. Highly spiced sauces and baked-stuffs are very dependent on skilful seasoning with salt and sugar.

As a seasoning for meat and dark sauces, black pepper is more effective than white because the real strength of the pepper berry is found in the outerskills of which black pepper is made. You need two pepper mills in your house, a wooden one for the kitchen and a pewter one, say, for the dining table. This insures freshly ground pepper for all seasoning purposes.

Cayenne pepper is something else again and must be used very sparingly, but a deft use of it lends zest to many a dish.

In soups, sauces and salads or with fish, meats and vegetables paprika's mild flavor is an addition. Its vivid color makes it an excellent garnish, too. Remember, though, there are two kinds—the Hungarian which is pungent and the Spanish which is very mild.

Cream of lima bean soup made faintly pink with paprika is nice served with toasted pimento cheese squares and olives.

TOASTED PIMENTO CHEESE SQUARES

Ten slices of bread cut 1-3 inch thick, 1½ cups American cream cheese, 3 tablespoons chopped pimento, 4 tablespoons butter.

The packaged cheese works up easily and smoothly. Mash cheese, add butter and pimento and mix until blended. Place five slices of bread, one on top of the other, with cheese filling between. Repeat with remaining slices of bread. Put in refrigerator until firm, about one-half hour. Slice each round of bread into four slices. Bake in a moderately hot oven 375 degrees F.) until brown. Serve hot.

In this case the toasting develops flavor quite as much as the seasonings.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Grapes, cereal, cream, baked French toast, syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Cream of lima bean soup, toasted pimento cheese squares, sweet cider.

DINNER: Oyster stew with oyster crackers, casserole of ham and sweet potatoes and pineapple, Chinese cabbage and green pepper salad, apricot and marshmallow freeze, milk, coffee.

Government Meets Monthly Payroll

The provincial government encountered no difficulty in meeting its payroll and other financial obligations due on Nov. 1, Premier William Aberhart declared on Friday.

When he visited Ottawa shortly after he took office, he received sufficient financial assistance to carry on governmental operations until the end of October. Further assistance will be necessary from Ottawa in the near future but in the meantime the province's obligations on the first of the month have been met.

In the Spreewald district of Germany, cows are taken to and from pasture in flat-bottomed boats.

EATS OATMEAL TO KEEP FIT

● It may be one of Nature's lowest cost foods, but lucky is the boy or girl who gets it for breakfast every morning.

Many are nervous, poor in appetite, system out of order, because their daily diet lack enough of the precious Vitamin B for keeping fit.

Few things keep them back like a lack of this protective food element.

So give everyone Quaker Oats every morning. Because in addition to its generous supply of Vitamin B for keeping fit, it furnishes food-energy, muscle and body-building ingredients. For about 1½c per dish.

Start serving it tomorrow for a 2-weeks test. Quaker Oats has a wholesome, nutlike, luscious appeal to the appetite. Flavory, surprisingly good. All grocers supply it.

A BEDTIME STORY

Story by HAL. COCHRAN Pictures by GEORGE SCARBO

When all the pumpkins disappeared, wee Duncy said, "Gee, I am skeered. On Hollowe'en the witches come. I guess I'll start to run."

"Ha, ha," laughed Scouty. "Think of that! Our little friend's afraidy-cat." And then he said to Duncy, "Oh, the whole thing is in fun.

"You've seen the witch make pumpkins and they had strange faces you thought grand. Most of the tricks this time of year, are played on mean, old cranks.

"You're never very mean, you see, so you're as safe as you can be. Besides, I know our friend, the witch, won't pull off any pranks."

* * *

"You're right, my son," the witch replied. "There is no need to run and hide. I would suggest, however, that it's time to go to bed.

"My house is near. There you can sleep. From now till dawn you will not peep. Why, I can tell by eyeing you, each one's a sleepy head."

The Tinies knew that she was right, and shortly Goldy Tinymites said, "Lead the way. We'll crawl right in and snooze, as you suggest.

"Then, when we wake, we'll hike away and find a brand new place to play. We've bothered you quite long enough, so that plan will be best."

* * *

The old witch smiled and said, "We'll see. Remember, you've been kind to me." And then she tucked them in and they all closed their weary eyes.

Hours later, just at break of day, they woke up when they heard her say, "Come right outside, you Tinymites. I have a big surprise."

They followed her, and Scouty said, "What is that pumpkin, just ahead?" "Why, that's a magic pumpkin," said the old witch, with a smile.

"Upon its sides it has big wings, and it can do the strangest things. Hop in it and you'll float away, in just a little while."

Saturday Morning Show At Capitol For Boys, Girls

To satisfy many hundreds of boys and girls and their parents, who have for a long time asked for a special showing of Mickey Mouse pictures along with Walt Disney's colored Silly Symphonies, Manager Wilson, of the Capitol theatre, has made arrangements to present a program made up entirely of these popular cartoons on Saturday morning to commence promptly at 10.30. For the best impersonations of members of the Mickey Mouse family, many good prizes will be given, including Shirley Temple dolls for the girls and watches for the boys, as well as many other nice prizes.

LULU ISLAND STABLES BURN

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1—One race horse, Gertrude M., owned by Bob Golletly, Vancouver, was destroyed and the complete stables of the Lansdowne Park race course on Lulu Island were burned down early today with a loss estimated at $30,000.

Twenty-four other horses were taken out without much difficulty. The course is owned by the Vancouver Thoroughbred association. The stables comprised 150 stalls. Origin of the fire is not known.

Mystery Bomber Adds Two Police Stations To List

Five Public Buildings Of Milwaukee Area Suffer Blasts From Unknown Theory.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 1.—Two police stations were bombed here last night, bringing to five the number of blasts at public buildings and banks since last Saturday. One person was reported injured. One blast was at the No. Five station at Third and Hadley streets, and the other at 12th and Vine, a short distance away.

The Hadley street station was most seriously damaged, a wall being blasted open and several windows smashed. A pedestrian was reported cut by flying glass. Damage to the other station was said to be small.

Explosives were placed in window ledges of garage sections of the police stations.

In three bombings last Saturday and Sunday nights, two branch bank offices and the village hall of suburban Shorewood were damaged. Police linked the blasts to the theft of dynamite from a public works project, but offered no theory as to the reason for the blastings.

No Goblins Allowed To Worry Quints

CALLANDER, Ont., Nov. 1.—Goblins danced in the shadow of the hospital home of the Dionne quintuplets last night but the famous babies took no part in the Hallowe'en celebration. The babies went to bed as usual since the Scottish custom of clanning together when ghosts are abroad is not generally recognized in this French-Canadian settlement.

But two and a half miles away, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, physician to the Quints, took off the gate to his yard "just in case" some of the Callander children "catch the habit" from youngsters of nearby North Bay and decide to "cut up."

He said he would not permit the routine of the babies' care to be interrupted even if Hallowe'en celebrations were in vogue here. Pumpkins and weird faces will have no part in the lives of the children—this year anyway.

Hallowe'en Brings Its Tragic Ends: Two Kiddies Die

READING, Pa., Nov. 1.—A papier mache jack o'lantern at a gay Hallowe'en party, and a kitchen stove caused the deaths of two children Thursday.

Four-year-old Edna Greely, whose clothing caught fire from the lantern, died in hospital. Her mother, Mrs. Robert Greely, was burned trying to beat out the flames.

Two-year-old James Reardon was burned at a gas stove, and died five hours later.

It has been estimated that only one-third of all American children are born in hospitals.

DEATH BECKONS CONRAD RUHL

CONRAD RUHL.

Well known hote'man, sports enthusiast and clubman of this city and an Edmonton citizen for 22 years, Conrad Ruhl, 52, died suddenly at 6 p.m. Thursday.

Born in Germany, Mr. Ruhl came to Edmonton in 1913 and has been engaged in the hotel business here since that time. For the past several years he has been proprietor of the International hotel.

Mr. Ruhl and Hans Muckulle were founders of the German-Canadian association, which has since taken the name German-Canadian Reunion association. He has also been a prominent member of the Edmonton Elks' lodge.

An ardent devotee of the sport of wrestling, he kept a gymnasium for several years where many of Edmonton's young wrestlers received their early training and which became a gathering place for men with an athletic turn of mind.

The funeral will take place at 10 a.m. Saturday from Sacred Heart church, and interment will be made in the Roman Catholic section of the Edmonton cemetery. Members of the Elks' Lodge will hold a service at the graveside. Connelly and McKinley are in charge of arrangements.

Besides his widow, Mr. Ruhl is survived by one son, Rudolph, and one daughter, Margaret, both living at home.

Groff To Address Community Meet On National Parks

Members of Jasper Place, Westgrove and District Community League will hear about Canada's national parks when they meet and their value to this province in tourist traffic at their meeting on Monday evening next at eight o'clock in the Jasper Place school, 148th street.

Colin G. Groff, publicity commissioner, will deal with this subject and exhibit moving picture films supplied by the Dominion Parks department showing the beauties of some of our great parks which are attracting an increasing number of visitors year by year.

At this meeting also the annual election of officers will take place postponed from a previous meeting due to inclement weather on that occasion. Arrangements for operating the community hockey and skating rink will be gone into and other winter activities discussed.

Byng Leaves $155,000

NO DUMPING OF WHEAT IS NEW EDICT

Rumors of Unloading Abroad at Sacrifice Are Discounted

OTTAWA, Nov. 1.—Denial of rumors the government intended to force Canadian wheat on the markets even at sacrifice prices followed the first meeting Thursday of the cabinet committee to deal with the wheat situation.

Hon. W. D. Euler, minister of trade and commerce and chairman of the wheat committee, issued the following statement: "There are rumors abroad the government intends to direct that the western wheat now held by the wheat board be sold, even at sacrifice prices.

"The rumors are entirely without foundation. Under the law the board headed by Mr. McFarland (John I. McFarland) has full authority with regard to the selling policy."

QUAKE NEEDLE DEMORALIZED

OTTAWA, Nov. 1.—The Dominion observatory today estimated the epicentre of the east's early morning earthquake was between 175 to 200 miles from Ottawa, either in the Upper Ottawa Valley or in the vicinity of Lake Champlain around Plattsburg, N.Y.

Ernest A. Hodgson, seismologist at the observatory, rushed to his instruments a short time after the shocks were felt here and found three of the five seismographs thrown out of commission after recording the quake for 30 seconds. The instruments showed the first preliminary tremors arrived at 1:04:20 a.m., E.S.T.

HELENA STARTS RECOVERY PLAN

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 1.—Montana's capital city, stunned by its second death, leading earthquake, marshaled its forces of reconstruction today after a night made miserable by dread of further shocks and sub-zero cold.

Despite the cold, many feared to return to their residences and spent the night with children from orphans' homes in two special trains, rushed into the city to provide emergency shelter.

Others huddled in automobiles and in relief shelters outside the city, where no shock-weakened buildings could fall.

City Engineer Oscar Baarson estimated loss in yesterday's quake at "from $500,000 up"—not so severe as at first believed. He said total loss during the 20-day period of recurrent quakes amounted to about $3,500,000.

Two men died beneath a toppling brewery chimney yesterday, increasing the number of quake victims since Oct. 12 to seven. They were Ed. O'Brien and Vincent Cennedy, both of Salt Lake City. Scores suffered minor injuries.

TORONTO GETS FIERCE SHOCK

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—Chimneys toppled over, ceilings fell, gas mains burst and windows were broken in the brief but severe earthquake here early today.

No one was injured, so far as could be learned, in the worst shock in the city's history.

A kitchen ceiling in the Ellsmont Apartments, Roncesvalles Avenue, collapsed but the room was not occupied. Ceilings and walls in other buildings were cracked.

A chimney tumbled from the roof of Conway's private hospital on Brunswick avenue. Another chimney crashed on Dundas street and narrowly missed two pedestrians.

Tweedsmuir's Arrival Is Hours Late

QUEBEC, Nov. 1.—E. H. Coleman, K.C., under secretary of state, last night announced details in regard to the installation of Lord Tweedsmuir as governor general of Canada.

Due to delay in the arrival of the liner Duchess of Richmond Lord Tweedsmuir will be installed at 8:30 p.m. on Saturday instead of earlier in the day.

Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir and party are expected to leave the liner at 7:15 p.m. and will proceed to the parliament buildings.

No Warships To Move Until All Is Made Safe

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Havas reported last night it had learned that Great Britain will withdraw warships from the Mediterranean until France has taken all necessary measures for immediate armed aid to Britain.

Milk Truck Rams Moving Locomotive

REGINA, Nov. 1.—Robert Orr, driving a milk truck, ran into a moving locomotive on a crossing. The engineer had applied brakes, and all that happened was a damaged truck fender and radiator, but it was a close one, for Robert.

Aged Pair Robbed

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1.—Two more candidates for the honor of "meanest thief" were sought by police here today. They over-powered Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bilodchik old age pensioners, in their home last night and robbed them of their life's savings, $62, at gunpoint.

HUDSON'S BAY AIDES IN NORTH GIVEN MEDALS

Gold and Silver Discs Are Awarded For Long Service

George Pendleton, district merchandiser, Hudson's Bay Company fur department for the district of Mackenzie-Athabasca, with offices located in Edmonton, and several other employees stationed at Hudson's Bay Company posts throughout the north have received through the mail, gold bars, gold medals and silver medals in recognition of long and faithful service.

The medals and bars were accompanied by letters of appreciation and congratulations from F. W. Allan, chairman of the Canadian committee of the Hudson's Bay Company.

Geo. Pendleton received a medal for fifteen years of continuous service. John McPherson, assistant at Moose Simpson, N.W.T., was the recipient of his first gold bar for 20 years service. A. M. McDermot, post manager, Fort Fitzgerald received his second gold bar for 35 years service.

A. S. Amsell, post manager at Fort Norman and brother of Dr. Camsell of the department of interior, Ottawa, was presented with a gold bar for 35 years service. Henry Laferty, Fort Rae, N.W.T., received a gold medal for 30 years service. A. J. McLeod, outpost manager, Wabasca, Alberta. N. W. J. Clarke, post manager, Little Red River, Alberta, and Norman Henry, post manager, Fort Vermilion, Alberta, were given silver medals for 11 years service in the company.

City Pioneer Dies In East

Resident of this city for 23 years during its formative stages, N. Brissette is dead at Montreal, according to word reaching relatives here.

Mr. Brissette came here in 1891 over the old Calgary trail in the pre-railway days. He entered the building trade and remained in it for the duration of his residence here.

He is survived by three sons, Louis of Montreal, Edmond of this city and Alphonse of Merinville. Nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren also survive.

Anti-War League Plans Parade For November 11 Here

League Against War and Fascism has applied to Police Chief A. G. Shute for permission to hold a parade on Armistice Day, Nov. 11.

The application was referred to Mayor J. A. Clarke, who stated that officials of the organization would confer with him Friday afternoon when details of the proposed parade would be discussed and a decision made whether or not the permit would be issued.

SUPREME COURT OPENS MONDAY

Walter Billiard, aged 17 years and eight months, will go on trial for the life for the murder of his fiancee Josephine Nicholson, 56, farmer, at Glenevis, when supreme criminal court opens next week.

Nicholson was found by R. C. M. Police on his farm on September 10. His body burned beneath the debris of a smouldering fire, his suffering legs of which had been freshly chopped. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of foul play, without naming an assassin. The accused, a Glenevis youth, was arrested at Goodland a few days after the discovery of the crime and was committed for trial at a preliminary held immediately following the inquest.

Chief Justice Simmons will preside at the first week of the session and Mr. Justice Tweedie the second week.

RELIEF CASES ON DOCKET

Four city relief officials, Alfred H. Barnard, Robert Thomson, Edward B. Wilkins and Arthur Stewart Warrior face charges of perjury in connection had by Albert Weiler, who will attempt to prove that statements given by the officials in a criminal action against himself, that he was in the city relief offices at a certain time, was false.

Two city relief recipients face perjury charges, the crown alleging wagering false declarations of income from sources other than relief. The docket also carries two theft cases, one of theft and perjury, an unlawful assembly action, two of conversion, one of false pretences, one demand with menaces and one of threat. There is a total of 23 cases to be dealt with.

ROAD REPORT

The Alberta Motor Association road and weather report for Friday morning: heavy snow; drifted roads with impassable sections in many parts of the province.

A detailed report is as follows:—Peace River Highway: Passable to Athabasca, except from Athabasca to Smith, impassable the rest of the way; Jasper Highway: Heavy snow but nothing liquor to hamper; before travelling; St. Paul Road: Road passable, moderate snow; Edmonton to Prince: Road blocked; Edmonton to Calgary: Road blocked, no busses have been through in last 15 hours; All Other Roads: Impassable owing to snowdrifts.

Gleaned From Today's News

Dr. F. H. S. Lowrey of Toronto, veterinary with the health of animals branch of the federal department of agriculture, was in Edmonton Friday on a regular routine business visit.

Members of the Optimist Club were treated to a program of fun and entertainment by Tom Morgan's team at the regular noon luncheon held Thursday in the Macdonald hotel. President Chalmers was in the chair.

The city telephone department reports revenue of $466,853 to date this year as compared to $451,476 for the corresponding period last year. Telephones in use at the present time number 15,634 as against 15,076 at the corresponding time in 1934.

MERCURY HITS FOUR BELOW

With the sky clear and the wind dropped to a light breeze in the northwest, temperature Friday morning dipped to four below zero at eight o'clock, for the first sub-zero reading this season.

Clear and cold weather prevailed today throughout the north, with Grouard registering 10 below. Keg River 18 below and Grande Prairie 17 below.

The forecast, with the barometer steady at 29.97, is "fair and cold".

Hallowe'en Pranks At Lowest Ebb

Bitter cold weather held the playful pranks of Hallowe'en celebrants down to its lowest mark reported police officials Friday. "It was the quietest Hallowe'en night in history," stated Chief A. G. Shute.

Compared to other years, the damage to property was at its lowest, declared police officials, with only the minor petty crime was reported such as false alarms and wagons blocking traffic on city streets.

Police Court

Failing to account to the owner for the sale of "Some Club," bay gelding, Herbert Hicks pleaded not guilty to the charge but was convicted and given suspended sentence for one year by Magistrate Gibson in police court Friday.

Hicks was found guilty of selling "Some Club" for two colts and one horse, worth approximately $40, but he failed to account for a surplus of money coming from the sale, and it was upon this fact that Hicks was convicted.

* * *

Wallace "Pop" Miller will pay $100 for a conviction of illegally possessing liquor in his car in police court Friday.

Counsel for the defence, Russell Speers, waged a sturdy legal battle for Miller, and was successful in getting the charge reduced to possession instead of selling of liquor.

* * *

Peter Lacombe and Mary McDonald, charged with breach of the delinquency act, had their sentences suspended by Magistrate Gibson when it was decided that Lacombe would return to his St Paul farm, while Mrs. McDonald would possibly be reunited with her husband as a result of efforts by Major Junkers of the Salvation Army.

* * *

Robert W. Butler will face a charge of breach of the domestic act on Monday following an adjournment Friday.

* * *

* * *

His good conduct, and the fact that he had provided well for his family since June, helped Walter McClure, remanded for sentence McClure was charged with false pretences in connection with receipt of relief.

* * *

Florence Sinclair will have to produce her face to the far north lands within two weeks, or it may mean another jail term. Miss Sinclair was charged with double assault and intoxication.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Everyone at sometime or another has a day dream in which they wish for something. Now if a fairy godmother offered full-filment of three wishes," what would you ask? queried the Bulletin's Inquiring Reporter.

The three most wonderful things in the world wouldn't come that way of course but here are the wishes of some Edmonton people who voiced their desires to the B.I.R.:

CLARE GREW: "I have been waiting for something like this for some time and during this weather a paradise island in the sunny south would be quite in order. Shucks, a fellow can't go very far with just three wishes but I wish I had a Packard sedan to ride home in after work."

PHYLLIS WALTERS, clerk: "I would like a happy married life. A good job while I'm single and a new car at my disposal when I desired it."

GORDON HANSON, salesman: "Well let me see, I would like a wife, a good job and someone to pay my expenses around the world."

* * *

LEN VANCE, C.N.R. employee: "I would like a stable of thoroughbred horses. A trip around the world and a job that would pay me anywhere around the sum of $150 a month."

* * *

DORIS WHITTON, stenographer: "Give me a wardrobe full of wonderful clothes. Enough money to take me around the world in a year's time and someone to donate me a model home on my return. May the fairy godmother give fulfilment to all these wishes."

Damages Sought In Court Action

Suit for $35,000 specific damages and claim for return of certain leased lands and chattels brought by Marie Margaret Celine Semiond and her husband, Lucien Julien Semiond of Bonnyville against Mary E. Broughton, Melville Broughton, Walter Broughton and Thomas G. Broughton, lessees of the land, and Joseph M. Dechene, agent

Output of the city power plant to date this year totals 43,545,700 kilowatt hours as compared to 41,386,000 kilowatt hours last year, an increase of 2,258,000 kilowatt hours.

An old-time building bee will be staged by the McCauley Community League in construct a skating rink on the League tennis courts. Residents of the district have been asked to be at the rink site on Saturday morning ready for action.

ARMED THUGS FAIL IN LOOT

Two armed, masked bandits held up two employees of the Bus Depot late last night and escaped with-out-ing after rifling cash registers it was reported by police Friday morning.

At the point of a gun, Herbert DeWinton was commanded to "stick em up" by the bandits while the cook counter attendant was ordered to stand against the wall while the bandits attempted to rifle cash drawers and the safe.

Officials of Bell Distributors, 111 street and 102 avenue, reported the only other attempted safe break. Only damage done by the bandits was the rifling of a cash drawer which was empty.

SIR MONTAGUE IS BANQUETTED BY MINING MEN

Technical Experts Join in Giving Welcome to Noted Visitor

Members of the Engineering Institute of Canada, the Alberta Association of Professional Engineers and the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy joined forces on Thursday night in honoring Right Hon Sir Montague Barlow, chairman of the royal commission investigating the problems of the coal industry in Alberta, when they tendered him a banquet at the Macdonald hotel.

The banquet was presided over by R. B. Bagnall, chairman of the Edmonton branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada, and the only field welcome to Sir Montague was extended by F. J. Mitchell, chairman of the Alberta branch of the Institute of Mining and Metallurgy. J. H. Baker, deputy minister of telephones, and John Martland also spoke, the latter bringing greetings from the Alberta Association of Architects.

AGREEABLY SURPRISED

Williams Armour, technical adviser to the commission, was introduced by Mr. Bagnall, and responded briefly on the work of the commission and said he had been impressed with the high standard shown in the work of mining engineers in Alberta.

Sir Montague was introduced by Dr. John A. Allan, head of the department of geology of the University of Alberta, and said he was agreeably surprised at the number of engineers and interesting resume of engineering feats in various parts of the British Empire which he had seen under his notice and also spoke of

D. E. A. Clarke of the University of Alberta, City Engineers A. W. Haddow and Mr. Millar were among the guests at the head table and during the evening Songs from Ed. McGarvey and W. Townend and violin selections by Tom Gardner were heard.

LABOR FORCES MAY DECIDE ON MAYOR RACE

Four Nominated for Aldermanic Board, Two for School Board

Labor forces will decide, at an executive meeting Friday night whether the party will contest the municipality in the forthcoming civic election.

It was intimated by party officials that if some outstanding man offered a candidate for mayor's honors was all hockey to labor, then the party would put itself forward as such.

The nomination date is expected of H. D. Amisby, J. W. Eastham, Margaret Crang and W. H. McIntyre, all decided on the 1934 ballot.

The slate published in the Journal Thursday was correct, it included the name of Mrs. [illegible]

Candidates for the Edmonton Public School board are Dr. F. W. Colquette and Mrs. [illegible] Jamieson.

As only the necessary number of candidates were presented, a contesting convention was unnecessary.

In 1933, fewer than 2,000,000 cars were in the U.S. that taxable [illegible]

PATS PANS by BILL LEWIS

OWNER Henry Roehe made the first important step in assembling his 1935-36 Eskimo hockey squad yesterday when he secured the services of Bill Carse and Gordon Rimstad of those new Northwestern League contracts . . . These two former local juniors, who broke into professional company last season are both in fine shape and the local owner is expecting them to go better than ever during the coming winter's campaign . . . The two mainstays of Carse and Rimstad on the Edmonton Athletic Club junior club of a couple of years ago are Lou Lystuke, goaltender, and Gordon Watt, defenceman—will try out for positions on the Eskimos this year . . . Lystuke performed in goal for Drumheller last winter, while Watt was with Saskatoon . . . Both pair were outstanding players in the senior amateur ranks.

There is a possibility, too, that Joe Brown, right-winger of Superiors for some years past, may try out with the pro club . . . Joe has had many chances to enter the mented ranks and there is a chance that he may decide to make the jump this time.

THE Eskimo camp has received word from Lorne Megrer, brilliant defence recruit of last year, that he is agreeable to terms offered for the coming winter and will be on hand when training starts . . . Mercer has been working in the United States during the summer and is reported to be in the best of condition . . . He is considered to be one of the "finds" of the league in 1934-35 . . .

What there is to be doing in amateur hockey circles here this winter will be known definitely next Monday night when a meeting of the Edmonton District Hockey association is held. . . . Representatives of all divisions will be in attendance and a good line-up of what is in store for amateur fans will be secured at that time.

A POPULAR choice for a new captain of the Commercial Grads was made when Glenn Fry was elected to that position following the retirement of Margaret MacBurney, who decided she would not accept nomination in the sport. . . . Glenn has always been popular with fans and team-mates alike and the club will be glad to see him made captain of the squad . . .

Margaret MacBurney's retirement is regretted by all Grad fans. . . . For years she has been one of the team's most brilliant players and sportsmanship, including the world's free-throw record, and those who have watched her consistent performances during the time she was with the team

U. S. JEWRY CRITICIZED IN SPEECH

Sherrill States He Will Withdraw Support in Assisting Jews

By BOB CAVAGNARO

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Declaring American Jews have shown a hostile attitude towards his efforts on behalf of world Jewry in the 1936 Olympic games, Brig. General Charles H. Sherrill, an American member of the International Olympic committee, Thursday announced withdrawal of those friendly efforts in the future.

REVEALS DISLIKE

Their last action suddenly revealed to me how general Jewish dislike of my pro-Jewish activities when two years ago they approached Tom Freer, me and I say it with deep emotion, to assist from those friendly efforts in the future. But another thing that the torrent of Jewish abuse recently poured upon me, I refused in making me anti-Jewish.

Our international committee does not concern itself with internal athletic conditions in any country," he said, "but only with the choice of that country's members of Olympic team. With that policy we insist that race, religion and creed shall not intervene. The German Olympic committee has complied with the international regulations regarding team selection.

AGAINST BOYCOTT

Remaining steadfast in his refusal to join a United States boycott of Germany movement, General Sherrill told the New York Advertising Club recent developments have compelled him to announce what he described as "pro-Jewish activities."

Sherrill who persuaded the German Olympic committee last summer to invite two German Jews to compete for Germany next year said he has received numerous condemnatory and abusive letters from American Jews.

OLYMPICS TIE RED WINGS 2-2 IN EXHIBITION

Detroit Teams Clash in Bitter Hockey Tilt on Thursday

DETROIT, Nov. 1.—Detroit Red Wings, of the National Hockey League, and the Olympics of the International circuit, opened the puck season last night with a 2-2 exhibition tie that was as bitterly contested as if they were in the title stretch. It was the start of a three-game series.

Hec Kilrea, brought from Toronto Maple Leafs, scored the opening for the Wings in the first period, but Norman Gallinger and Art Giroux evened it up. Dumont and Deacon evened it up. The second period was scoreless.

Kelly put the major leaguers out in front in the third, with a shot on Hec Kilrea rebound, but Dumont knotted the count again on a penalty shot.

The lineup:

THE LINEUP

Red Wings: Goal, Kinzer; defence, Kelly, Aziz Il Kilrea; rover, Siebert; centre, Hoke Wiseman; forwards, Boyd, Pavelich, Goyd.

Olympics: Goal, Jones; defence, Gallinger, Giroux; centre, Deacon; forwards, Dumont, Sues Brown, Bennett, Brunetteau, Rochette, Ramsay, W. Kilrea.

Officials: Jack Tompkins.

JUNIOR GRIDDERS STARTING FINALS

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1.—Fred Bitter had his eye on Calgary today as he vowed to avenge the defeat handed him in 1933 by Calgary gridders from the Old Country Athletic club, builder of junior rugby champions for the past few years . . . Jack Marsden in the Western Canada semi-final game Saturday to team up with Calgary Bronks.

The veteran coach has his Winnipeg Victorias primed and ready for what he expects will be a hard battle in Moose Jaw, but he has no doubt his youthful proteges would take the measure of the Maroons and advance to the finals in Calgary.

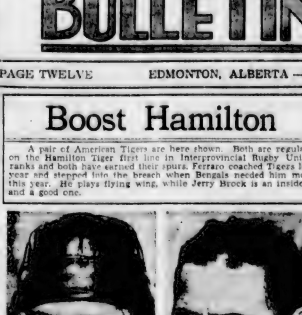
Bitter who coached his Deer Lodge club to the 1934 western title will leave here tomorrow night with 20 players. The team, he said today, should be even better than the squad last year.

Hockey's Start

LONDON—The first match of the ice hockey season was staged at the Streatham ice rink recently. Streatham, indoor champions, defeated a team drawn from other clubs in the league 5-1. It was a gruelling game and nine penalties were imposed.

Boost Hamilton

A pair of American Tigers are here shown. Both are regulars on the Hamilton Tiger first line in Interprovincial Rugby Union ranks and both have earned their spurs. Ferraro coached Tigers last year and stepped into the breach when Bengals needed him most this year. He plays flying wing, while Jerry Brock is an inside—and a good one.



Grid Squads Ready For Playoff Battle

Regina and Winnipeg Are Prepared For Game on Saturday

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1.—Warned of a storm kings approach, squads of workmen today bedded down Osborne Stadium. Tons of straw spread to receive a huge over-stuffed mattress was laid over the field to preserve the surface for Saturday's football classic between Winnipegs and Regina Roughriders.

The standing-room only sign was hung outside the box office as carpenters rushed to complete all the extra seating capacity possible to erect. If they can get into the grounds, 7,000 persons are expected to crowd the playing park to its outer fences. It has a normal seating capacity of 4,500.

While myriads of preparations went forward the stalwarts who have emerged from their playing schedules with provincial titles firmly in their grasp confined themselves to light workouts and chalk talks. Both teams have been troubled by injuries to stellar players but all are recovering.

Already the bumps, bruises and strains that had close to 20 players of both teams unfit for duty have healed to such an extent that all take part in scrimmages.

Greg. Kabat, Pegs peerless flying winger, who will undergo a minor operation on an injured ankle, has had it postponed until after the game.

Riders' supporters were cheered with the coming of Chappie O'Connor. The star rearguard man recently recovered from a troubled ankle

PRIMO CARNERA GOING BACK TO BOXING'S WARS TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—They've pictured to add Primo Carnera again and will toss him back into the fistic wars tonight when Walter Neusel, rugged German heavyweight, at Madison Square Garden, tangles with the giant.

The fight is scheduled for 10 rounds. Carnera was a 6 to 5 favorite last night but the two bout matchmakers said little wagering in interest.

It will be the man-mountain's first ring appearance since he was almost half killed by the disgusting left hooking of Joe Louis some last summer. Neusel has scored victories over Pete Petersen, the British champ; Tommy Loughran, Ray Impastato and King Levinsky.

If Neusel whips Carnera he may be half-way promised that he would be the next opponent in the Garden in March.

Not A Plater

YORK, England—Tommy Weston, veteran jockey of Epsom, England, is a jockey who frequently appears often without his cap and opponents. Jockey W. Nevitt. Attitude Little-Go-Plate here, Nevitt rode three brothers at Catterick Bridge and captured his fifth victory.

Amateur Body Hockey Meeting

Edmonton and District Hockey Association will hold a general meeting Monday, November 4, at the Memorial hall at 8 p.m. The general public is invited to attend, but only official representatives of competitive clubs will be eligible to vote.

BRUINS SIGN UP SECOND AMATEUR

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Nov. 1—A second amateur has signed a Boston Bruins contract, it was learned last night after the last player had left the National Hockey League team's training camp here. He is Leo Lepri of Nipigon, Ont., a right winger.

Announcement was made Wednesday that Harold Johnson, of Winnipeg had made the jump to professional ranks. Both players will have further reasoning with the Bruins' farm club, Boston Cubs.

MINOR SQUAD HOPES TO WIN SECOND GAME

Eddie Wares Turning Pro With Philadelphians on Saturday

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1—Philadelphia Ramblers, newcomers in the Canadian-American circuit, Thursday nursed hopes of making a clean sweep in their two-game exhibition series with Montreal Maroons, Stanley cup holders. Injuries in their ranks would make the task difficult but they indicated they would be in there fighting.

They triumphed 3-1 in the first game Wednesday night.

Eddie Wares, Calgary, who will perform for Ramblers Saturday, became the eighth amateur to turn professional with Ramblers' farm team this fall. He came to Winnipeg to try out with Maroons but was transferred to Ramblers in a hockey deal.

Cooper, rugged rear-guard, was taken to an hospital for attention after Wednesday night's encounter. He received four stitches in his left eye—two to mend the top eye-lid and the same for the bottom one. He tangled with "Big Train" Lionel Conacher in a struggle for the puck near Maroons' net and may not perform with his mates Saturday.

Joe Gould Gives Lie To Statement Of Jack Sharkey

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—If Jack Sharkey wants to fight Jim Braddock for the world heavyweight title he will have to prove he's qualified first. It he wants an argument, meanwhile, he can get it from Braddock and the champion's manager, Joe Gould, without the slightest preliminary.

Sharkey's statement that he once knocked out Braddock with big gloves in a training camp drew a retort last night from Gould.

"Sharkey is deliberately lying, in an attempt to get some cheap publicity for his comeback," said Gould.

Gould added that if Sharkey is serious about entering the ring again he can get a match with Jack McCarthy, Boston heavyweight, on short notice.

ONLY ONE REAL STANDOUT GAME

GLASGOW, Nov. 1—Saturday's round of games in the Scottish Football League provide only one game which can be said, at least, to stand out as a real fight. It is the Hearts-St. Johnstone tangle at Tynecastle park that records eleven holds down the fourth position in the table with Hamilton Academicals and the Saints two points behind.

The Dons of Aberdeen are leading the field and, playing at home Saturday against Queen of South, should garner the possible two points.

Celtic, in the runner-up position also plays at home against Dundee. Glasgow Rangers, third place, may meet with opposition from Queen's Park. The famous amateurs, with two victories last Saturday, swamped St. Johnstone 5-1.

In the minor league a four-cornered fight has been waged since the opening of the season between St. Mirren, Falkirk, St. Bernards and Merton.

Discuss Canada's Olympic Outlook

MONTREAL, Nov. 1—Canada's hopes and possibilities in New Year's Olympic games at Berlin will be discussed here Saturday at a meeting of the Canadian Olympic committee.

Trouble in the United States arising out of opposition to the country's entry into the games will have little effect on Canada, Le Borne, president of the Quebec branch, Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, said Thursday.

The question of emigration of Canadian amateur hockey players to the United States is expected to be discussed by representatives of the A.A.U. attending the meeting.

Gladys Fry Is Elected As Captain

GLADYS FRY

Succeeding Margaret MacBurney, who announced her retirement as an active player following the recent St. Louis' series, Gladys Fry was elected as captain of Commercial Grads, women's international basketball champions.

DRUMHELLER MINERS WILL BE IN SHAPE

Strong Line-Up in View For Southern Inter-City Team

DRUMHELLER, Nov. 1.—The early cold snap has given Coach Reg MacKie of the Drumheller Miners, the boost he was hoping for. With the southern Alberta senior hockey season opening three weeks earlier, due to the artificial ice rink in Calgary, Coach MacKie was wondering how to get his new string of puck chasers into shape before the opening game. The zero spell has enabled him to get his ice makers busy and last night he announced that the first workout would definitely be called for Sunday.

Hockey fans will see many surprises this year with Ira (Red) Cook, former Brandon and Moncton Hawk forward, one the revamped lineup, while Ed McLeod, a promising young player from Cressfield, will also be given a try out. Lined up with defence man Liston Anderson will be husky Ches Jacobs of the 1934 Olds Elks, while there is a possibility of Bill Wright being back once again with the coal city boys.

Advance ticket sales opened at Dave Dixon's next week, season tickets price this year being slashed to $6.00 for the eleven-game series.

Petersen Marries

NEWPORT, England — Heavyweight boxing champion of England, Jack Petersen, entered a new "ring" for him at Marshfield. He married his schoolboy sweetheart, Betty Williams. Despite cold, damp weather hundreds trudged in ankle-deep mud to witness the ceremony. On his return from a five-weeks honeymoon in Europe he will start training for another bout.

Bob Olin Beaten In Titular Battle By Negro Fighter

Disappointing Crowd Sees Title Change Hands In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1.—John Henry Lewis, Phoenix, Ariz., negro, outpointed champion Bob Olin of New York, to win the world's light heavyweight championship last night.

Eight thousand fans, a disappointment for promoters who expected 20,000, saw the "Ebony Cyclone" batter his way to a title in a smashing 15-round bout.

It was Olin's first formal defence since he won the championship almost a year ago from Maxie Rosenbloom and his second loss to Lewis, who won a non-title bout from him last spring.

As early as the third round, the challenger from the west had Olin dazed and shaky, and for nearly all of the rest of the fight, the champion was a human punching bag, an iron man without the slightest chance of winning.

Olin took the first two rounds by a slight margin, but Lewis swirled out of his corner at the beginning of the third with a powerful two-fisted attack that had Olin backing up.

MAROONS GET PLENTY WORK ON THURSDAY

Gorman Gives His Squad Lengthy Practice After Defeat

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1.—A stiff 2½-hour workout Thursday was Tommy Gorman's reaction to the 3-1 defeat his Maroons suffered in their first exhibition game with Philadelphia Ramblers. The Montreal coach hustled his charges through almost everything in the hockey code.

All players were reported in fine fettle. Bill Miller who didn't pull on his skates Wednesday night, will play against Lester Patrick's farm squad on Saturday. He suffered a foot injury in training but it was nothing serious, Gorman said.

SQUAD REDUCED

The squad was reduced yesterday. Two players were sent to minor league clubs while two amateurs indicated they would stay with the simon pures for another year.

Andy Mulligan, defenceman with Providence Reds in the Canadian American last year, returns to Providence. "Toe" Blake, who joined Marcons' ranks late last season, will also go to Providence. He is loaned to Reds for more seasoning. Kenneth Grivel, Toronto amateur and "Phat" Perras, brilliant Kenora goalie will remain in amateur ranks next winter. The position of amateur Jack Drapper from Ottawa remains uncertain.

TWO DOUBTFUL

As to where Bill Mackenzie and Bill Haugher will play next winter is yet to be decided. Mackenzie will remain at Maroons' training camp here until the end of the week. He will be loaned to Philadelphia Ramblers again for the second Maroon-Rambler encounter.

Gorman of Maroons has requested that two officials handle Saturday's game. Only one referee was on the ice when Maroons were defeated and the big fellows were out of control most of the game.

Vancouver Lions Seek Tommy Dewar

MOOSE JAW, Nov. 1.—Vancouver Lions of the Northwestern League have offered Tommy Dewar, young Moose Jaw defenceman, a professional contract for the 1935-36 season, it was learned here yesterday.

Dewar recently returned from the hockey school conducted by the New York Rangers at Winnipeg this month. He is slated to join Prince Albert Minto of the Northern Saskatchewan senior amateur league.

RANGERS EASILY BEAT STARS

New York Sextet In Scoring Form

Frank Boucher Marks Up Four of Winner's Counters

CALGARY, Nov. 1—Warming up their shooting eyes for the campaign in the National Hockey league this winter, New York Rangers scored an 11-6 victory over a Northwestern Hockey league all-star team in the second of a three-game exhibition series here last night.

The smooth working Cook-Boucher-Cook line was by far the most dangerous of Lester Patrick's combinations. Frank Boucher, famed as a play-maker, turned goal-scorer to mark up four of his team's counters. Glenn Brydson pushed another into the cage that the line had placed in position.

The trio also was strong on the defensive, only one goal being scored on Rangers while they were on the ice.

PACES BOUCHER

Bert Connolly, centre of the second string line, kept pace with Boucher on the scope sheet, but his first one was a gift, tossed into the net by Sam Timmins, Calgary goal-keeper. Butch Keeling scored the Rangers' other two.

Dave Kerr performed sensationally in the Ranger nets, kicking out and smothering play after play as the Calgary forwards closed in.

Charlie O'Neil, a former Buffalo player, and Stew Adams, who has seen service in the National league, each scored two goals for Calgary. Jimmy Jempson and Walter Macartney scored the others.

AMERKS RELEASE VETERAN HIMES

GALT, Ont., Nov. 1 — Normie Himes, veteran centre released by New York Americans of the National Hockey League Wednesday after 10 years' service, said at his home here yesterday he was negotiating with a couple of other National Hockey League clubs for his services.

Himes said definitely he would not play in minor professional leagues.

THE LINEUPS

New York Rangers: Goal, Kerr; defence, Ayres and Starr; centre, Connolly; wings, Keeling and Brydson. Subs: Johnson, Heller, W. Cook, F. Cook, Boucher, Dillen, Murdoch, Patrick, Mason.

All-Stars: Goal, Timmins; defence, McFarlane and Gilmour; centre, Smith; wings, Jerau and Harris. Subs: Savage, Gainor, Macartney, O'Neil, Jempson, Adams.

Referee: Pete Sande, Calgary.

Billiards At 80

LONDON—On a table more than 100 years old which has a wooden bed, a man who will be 81 on Dec. 31 recently played billiards in aid of the King's jubilee fund. He was W. J. Peall. For years he held the record break of 3,304 before the spot-stroke was legislated against. Stars of the stage and screen also participated.

CALDER IN DARK AS TO DISPUTE

TORONTO, Nov. 1. — President Frank Calder, of the National Hockey League, today was "at a loss to understand what lies behind the objections" of the International League as to the proposed working agreement between the two leagues. The agreement has been in effect for the last 10 years.

"At present I know no more about the matter than what I see in the newspapers," said Calder referring to a Buffalo dispatch stating the International League had returned unsigned to the N. H. L. the proposed agreement. The president was in Toronto today to confer with "Red" Dutton, manager of the New York Americans, and Conny Smythe, manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs.

All bookbinders were monks in the Middle Ages of Europe, this being considered a sacred profession.

Renovation Main Keynote Of This Season's Canucks

Change in All Branches of Club as Makeover Goes Into Effect

QUEBEC, Nov. 1—Renovation is the keynote of this season's Montreal Canadiens. The Flying Frenchmen of the National Hockey League have undergone a makeover in ownership, management and personnel.

First move was the purchase of the club by a Montreal syndicate, headed by Ernest Savard, part owner of the Montreal baseball club, and Maurice Forget, Montreal sportsman.

For a reported price of $75,000 the multi-sport partnership of Leo Dandurand and Joe Cattarinich relinquished the club which in the 15 years they operated it won three Stanley Cup victories—in 1924, 1930 and 1931.

EXPERIENCED PILOT

The new owners appointed Sylvio Mantha, veteran Canadien defenceman, playing manager. Turning professional with Canadiens back in 1923 Sylvio will be starting his 13th season, the second oldest defenceman in service in the league.

Work of rebuilding the team started with the owners going into the trading marts for new players. Provided they were of high calibre, Montrealers and particularly French - Canadians were sought.

A large number of players trained here and Manager Mantha is expected to have 16 players in tow when the Canadiens open their season at home against New York Rangers Nov. 12.

Complete revision of the defence squad is the main change in Canadiens' personnel this season. Last year's forward lines are left almost intact although a surplus of wingmen makes the final selection a matter of conjecture. One of the important cogs missing in the Bleu machine is Nels Crutchfield, seriously injured in a motor accident in September.

NEW DEFENCEMEN

Sylvio Mantha will be the only last year's defenceman in front of Wilf Cude, goal tender, and guard the nets. For Roger Jenkins and an unannounced bundle of cash Canadiens obtained Walter Buswell and Jean Pusie, both Montrealers from Boston Bruins. Also in the reargurard are Irvin Price, garnered from the St. Louis Eagles, distribution of players, and Art Lesieur, former Canadien obtained from Providence.

Should the four new defencemen measure up to expectations, awhile likely will play only at odd times.

Aurel Joliat, crafty veteran who clicks his fourteenth season, is on the left wing position with Hec Legace at centre and Wilbur Lamothe on the right on what will be the first string line. In exchange for Jack Riley, Paul Haynes, former Montreal Maroon star obtained from Boston to centre the line of Jack McGill and Jimmy "Black Cat" Gannon. Another reconstructed line is George Mantha at left, Armand Mondou at centre and Leo Bou Gold-smith on the right wing spot.

COUTURE MAY STICK

Lolo Couture, St. Boniface Man., player dropped from Chicago Black Hawks, sold to Cleveland and recloaned to Canadiens, is set for a right wing berth and is expected to stick. Also trying for a right wing position is Maxie Bennett, former Hamilton amateur while Pete Runge of Quebec Bruyers is going for a left wing job.

If the present lineup fails to click, the Canadiens' owners plan to recall farmed-out players and sign amateurs in an effort to make a change for the better.

ROD FENTON, who has become one of the finest wrestling shows Edmonton has ever had, received a tough break yesterday when his grapplers were halted by snowstorms in the south and could not reach here in time for the scheduled show last night. As a result there should card for an added attraction to go on tonight in addition to the regular bill. It was a thing that could not be helped and it is to be hoped that it will not affect his patronage when the next program is staged a week from tonight.

The drifts proved so bad that Fenton and his grapplers could not get further north than Olds and this fact caused him to send word that the show would not be held until next Friday as it is impossible to secure use of the Empire Theatre until that time.

TOTTENHAM'S BID FOR STAR TURNED DOWN

Hearts Refuse Offer Of $25,000 For Starry Alex. Massie

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Seeking to strengthen the team now fighting hard to regain first division status in the English Football League, directors of Tottenham Hotspurs offered $25,000 for Alex Massie, star halfback of Heart of Midlothian, Scottish club. The Edinburgh men refused the offer Thursday.

Heads are falling at Villa Park, where Aston Villa is in a desperate plight at the bottom of the senior league.

MANAGER RESIGNS

James McMullan, team manager, has resigned and Frank Barson, former England and Manchester United halfback, is taking charge as coach and trainer. T. Waring, the club's international centre-forward, has been released at his own request.

Sunderland, leader of the league, travels from the north to the south of England on Saturday for the game with Portsmouth. One point separates the Roker Park outfit from Huddersfield town and Derby county. Derby county is at home to Manchester city while Huddersfield is host to Chelsea.

FEATURE CONTEST

The tidbit of the second division is the game at Manchester between the United and Leicester city, who dethroned Tottenham from leadership last week-end. The Londoners and Manchester are bracketed one point behind the Midlanders.

Reading will have to fight hard to take maximum points from Torquay United. The Seasiders are only one point behind Reading, leader of the southern section, third division. In the northern section Tranmere Rovers play at Crewe but should be able to snatch two points.

Rough On Doctors

BIRMINGHAM, Eng.—At least help was not far away when two players in a rugby match between the medical staff and porters of Queen's Hospital, Birmingham, suffered broken legs. Dr. W. Dean collided with a goalpost for the first casualty and later Albert White, a porter, fell in making a tackle and broke his leg.

Derby Fined

CREWE, England.—Found guilty of a breach of rules by indirectly attempting to induce a Stoke City player to sign for the Derby County English League soccer club, was fined $125 by a special committee of the Football League sitting here. The County was also ordered to pay the costs of the commission.

The titmouse, a bird, will snatch hair from a man's head and use them in nest building.

Aussie Cue Ace

TORONTO TEAM IN GRAND SHAPE

KITCHENER, Ont., Nov. 1—When Toronto Maple Leafs leave here today to play an exhibition game in London with the International League Tecumsehs, they will break camp in great condition to start the National Hockey League campaign.

Coach Dick Irvin believes his big squad of players are in better condition than they ever have been after the pre-season training routine.

He's The Boss

CAPE TOWN.—A new "departure" in field hockey occurred in a recent match at Plumstead. The captain of one of the teams issued marching orders to one of his men who could not agree with the team's style of play. The side was leading 2-0 at the time but eventually retired, defeated 3-2.

War-Cry Out

LONDON — The New Zealand rugby team, touring England, have not performed the "haka" or war-cry before matches. The "no-war-cry" decision was made by S. S. Dean, chairman of the New Zealand Rugby Union.

Another Hitchcock

AUBURN, Ala.—Billy Hitchcock, brother of the all-American Jimmy Hitchcock, has just about clinched a berth as regular left halfback on the Alabama Poly football team. He has a flair for running, passing and kicking.

The Debunker

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph.D.

If tin cans were made of tin they would be so expensive that most of us could not afford to buy them. Pure tin is a very expensive metal. Tin cans are made of iron and other cheap metals and are merely coated with a thin layer of tin to keep them from rusting, since tin won't rust in moist air. It is widely used as a coating for iron and copper and is also used in making tin-foil, solder, bronze and ... It is too soft a metal to be used alone. The once popular title "Tin Lizzie" for Fords was really an extravagant term, for a Ford made of tin would be more expensive than any car ever manufactured.

Prefers Gas To Firearm Use

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the United States Bureau of Investigation, recommends tear gas instead of guns for self-defence. "A dose of tear gas will incapacitate the criminal," he said. "Fire arms require a certain amount of technical skill in operation, whereas a gas gun can be used effectively with little practice."

Win Over Newport By Margin Of 17-5 On British Tour

Thirteen Straight Wins New Zealand Record On Present Trip

NEWPORT, Eng., Nov. 1—Extending its string of victories to 13, the touring New Zealand Rugby team Thursday defeated Newport 17-5. The record of the All-Blacks' tour thus far has been marred by only one defeat, that inflicted by Swansea Sept. 26, when the score was 11-3.

The loss in the Welsh city was the first suffered by New Zealand in the old country in an international fixture since 1905. The touring team in that season won 32 matches and ran up 868 points against 47. In 1924 the All-Blacks won 30 games, all that were played, and bagged 721 points against 112.

HALF THROUGH TOUR

With Thursday's fixture the present team reached the halfway mark of the tour. The 14 games have netted the All-Blacks 225 points while their opponents have compiled 85. The showing is not nearly so impressing as that of the previous touring sides, particularly in view of the fact that up to the present only club teams have been met. The latter half of the schedule includes international matches with Scotland, Ireland, Wales and England.

On the other hand the All-Blacks have been unlucky in the matter of injuries, several star players having been incapacitated for one or more matches. While behind the scrum they have played brilliantly, the forwards have several times been inferior to opposing packs.

English sports writers have criticized the persistency with which they adhere to the 3-4-1 formation in scrummaging as opposed to the customary 3-2-3 plan.

The All-Blacks won their opening game against Devon and Cornwall 35-6, but since then several teams have given them hard battles. At Glasgow they were held to a 9-8 victory by Glasgow and Edinburgh and the Combined Services held them to an equally tight margin at Aldershot.

SIMON PURE ICE CHAMPS NEAR INTACT

Halifax Wolverines Lose Only One Player in Off-Season

HALIFAX, N.S., Nov. 1.—Boston Bruins and Montreal Canadiens open the 1935-36 hockey season Nov. 1 with an exhibition, goodwill tour, but out of Halifax, home of the national amateur champions and Canada's representatives at the winter Olympic frolics, comes nothing but rumors; rumors of possible breakup of the Wolverines, of a sport war in troubled Europe and mumblings against the British hockey authorities who have taken from the maritimes some of its finest hockey talent.

The Maritime Hockey League, which has given Canada three national championships in as many years, has apparently sung its swan-song, but if the Wolverines are unable to qualify for Allan cup play, Saint John's Beavers are willing—aye eager—to carry on the maritime quest for the grand slam in simon pure hockey — four straight.

WOLVERINES ARE SILENT

Wolverine officials are disgustingly close - mouthed concerning plans for the coming season. They'll lose only one player—Ron Hudson to Detroit Red Wings—but the team that followed in the footsteps of Moncton Hawks, first Maritime entrant to ascend the Allan cup ladder, may find itself without a league to compete in and may disband because of lack of opposition and of funds to carry on.

Hopes of maintaining the Big Four of hockey were rudely shattered when many of its outstanding players packed their grips and sailed "across the pond" to improve the standard of hockey in the mother country.

Ambrose "Pop" Wheeler, manager and "angel" of the Moncton Hawks, has already given up the ghost. Members of his once-famed team are widely scattered. Some draw salaries from big league clubs, others from minor leagues, and a few will pastime in the maritimes with teams that once furnished the Hawk opposition. The rest will wear hockey spangles in the domain of Uncle Sam.

Pop had visions of another great team until John Bull reached out and gathered in the players who were to replace the stars of Moncton's first Allan cup winner.

BRITAIN DRAWS STARS

He had leased the city-owned stadium, home of the Birds for three winters, but as one hockey plan after another collapsed, Wheeler folded his tents, another picked up the lease on the rebound and the railway city will feature industrial and junior hockey.

Charlottetown Abegweits had visions of a good winter, that is until Leo Sargent, peerless goalie, and Ivan Nicholson, burly forward, heeded the urgent call from the British Isles and packed their bags for good old Richmond, where tea and beef are on the menu daily. The Abbies have lost hope.

William "Red" Stuart, who became famous in the uniform of the Toronto St. Patricks back in the days when Babe Dye was the Charlie Conacher under the big tent, has left his native province and in his departure Nova Scotia has lost a good citizen, and Halifax Wolverines a good coach.

Red hopes some day to become famous again as a developer of young hockey talent for the major leagues. In the meanwhile he finds year-round employment at Freod ... in northern Ontario and entertains an ambition to assemble there a team stronger than his 1935 national champions.

Percy Nicklin, who came out of Fort Francis, Ont., unheralded and unsung to become mastermind of the Moncton Hawks, has packed his bags and departed for merrie England with a Canadian-born team.

NEED THREE-TEAM LEAGUE

Saint John Beavers are quite eager to carry on the maritime league campaign, with a team recruited from erstwhile members of the Hawks and players ineligible for play in the maritimes last season, but see the need of a third team for financial purposes.

Wolverines would welcome maritime league play as a tune-up for the sterner task of maintaining Canada's unblemished Olympic hockey record, but regard a two-team Saint John-Halifax league as a reckless venture.

Hockey "angels" have departed from the scene and if the maritime league is to continue a third team must be found. But where?

Halifax plans call for the advancement of one of the veterans to the post of playing-manager. Ernie Mosher, born in Windsor, N.S., but more popularly known in Kentville, Fredericton and Halifax, may be offered the coveted position. Popular with players and team officials and a war-scarred veteran of the hockey rinks, Mosher might well develop into an ideal coach.

MAY DISBAND

Wolverines have other plans if the maritime league fails to function. They may tour New England and even Upper Canada before "going across." Then again they may disband and give Canadian Amateur Hockey Association officials the task of assembling a team to represent the Dominion in the Berlin classic. If the Wolverines remain intact, minus, of course, Hudson, who is definitely signed with Detroit's pudgy Jack Adams, they will be strengthened for Olympic play with players carefully selected by the C.A.H.A.

If they participate in a maritime league schedule they may qualify for Allan cup play later in the season and seek to duplicate Moncton's record of two successive national championships.

URGED TO BOYCOTT BERLIN

Like other athletic units slated for the Olympics, the Wolverines have been a target for groups urging a boycott of the games because of alleged discrimination against Jewish competitors and because of Nazi policies in general. The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, holding its annual convention in Halifax recently, was outspoken in its demand for a boycott by Canadian athletes in general and the Wolverines in particular.

But it's all so unsettled now even the most enthusiastic are losing heart.

It may be a long winter and a ...

LEGISLATION TO BE SUBMITTED TO HIGH COURT

OTTAWA, Nov. 1.—Justice department officials today were preparing a reference for immediate submission to the supreme court of Canada on the constitutionality of major legislation enacted at the last session of parliament. Anticipations were judgments of the court would be rendered before the dominion-provincial conference convenes here the latter part of this month.

Seven measures will be the subject of the reference and the court will be asked to give its opinion on "certain questions which have been raised regarding the validity."

In an announcement, Minister of Justice Lapointe last night said the acts which would be the question of reference were: The Unemployment and Social Insurance act, the Dominion Trade and Industry act, the Natural Products Marketing act (1934) and amendments, an Act to Amend the Criminal Code to Supplement the Intentions of the Trade and Industry act providing penalties for price-cutting in contravention of the act, the Minimum Wage act, the Limitation of Hours of Labor Act, and the Weekly Day of Rest in Industrial Undertakings act.

Need Snow Plows Near Drumheller

DRUMHELLER, Nov. 1—Calgary-Saskatoon highway running through Drumheller, is piled high with drifted snow and has been impassable since late Monday. While urgent messages have been relayed to the provincial government for snow ploughs to break open the road and come to the aid of scores of stranded motorists, latest reports are to the effect that no plough is yet available for this stretch of interprovincial highway.

Blackhawks to Break Camp After Saturday

HOW TO PLAY QUARTERBACK

KNUTE ROCKNE'S idea of a good quarterback was a fellow with plenty of personality, a "cocky" attitude, and a good barking voice so that when he yelled the signals the backfield didn't have the tendency to be lulled to sleep. In short, he was an inspirational leader.

Hock also thought that the two most important things to teach a quarterback were when not to pass and, "When in doubt, punt."

But football has changed, what with the advent of the lateral, and forward passes being tossed almost anytime.

A quarterback is boss of all situations. He must either succeed on his own hook, or spotts-manlike, take a rap for an error in judgment.

He must always be on the lookout for the breaks, and must punt, punt, punt, on a wet, sloppy field until he gets one of those breaks.

Fascists Dying Wholesale Says Haile Advisor

DURBAN, Union of South Africa, Nov. 1.—Gen. Eric Vergin, until recently an adviser to Emperor Haile Selassie, said yesterday Italian soldiers in Africa are "dying by hundreds."

"They were dying before the war began," he said. "I can promise you the Italians will not reach Addis Ababa next year, nor the next year, nor ever."

Rome Profiteers Being Punished

ROME, Nov. 1.—Hoarders and profiteers among the merchants of Italy are being punished daily, no matter how small their violations of the regulations.

Six Rome food stores were closed today for a period of one to three days because they sold soap, oil, coffee, flour and other articles at five per cent. above the official price list.

Bull-Headed Bull Spoils His Record

DAUPHIN, Man., Nov. 1.—B. Bailey's perfect driving record was broken when he encountered a bull-headed bull near here. The bull decided he had the right of way. The car came off second best and had to be towed to town. The bull had a torn ear and probably a headache.

WINNIPEG CAR INSPECTIONS

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1—Inspections on Thursday: Wheat, 427 cars, 995 last year; contract wheat, 238; oats, 61-96; barley, 21-71; flax, 0-3; rye, 1-5.

LONDON BAR GOLD

LONDON, Nov. 1—Bar gold advanced 2 pence to 141s 1d. (U.S. equivalent, $34.80.) Bar silver steady, unchanged at 29 5-16d.

AGED PIONEER SCORNS RELIEF

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1. — Tom Dowd, 95-year-old pioneer of the Kootenay district, is still self-supporting and proud of the fact he has never accepted a cent of relief money.

He lives on a small farm, has an acre potato patch which he cultivates by hand, and makes extra money on a trap line. "Of course I could have got more, but my trap line was only six miles long and I couldn't handle a longer line," the nonogenarian said.

Three years ago Mr. Dowd had a little trouble with his teeth and had to go to a dentist and have seven of them exracted, but he says he comes of a hardy stock as his grandmother lived to be 111 years of age.

NO DRINKING FOR WAITERS

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1.—The old adage seems to have been changed to "What's good for the goose is NOT good for the gander," as far as beer parlor attendants are concerned.

The liquor control board recently issued an order to all proprietors that an old ordinance forbidding waiters and bartenders drinking or smoking while on duty is to be strictly enforced. One week's suspension from duty has been suggested for first offenders.

Author Sees Play Staged In London

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Mazo de la Roche, the Canadian author, has the unique experience of preparing for a view of "White Oaks of Jalna" on the stage this month and of reading the reviews on the film version in America.

She has not seen the film and naturally would like to have been in the audience which had the first say on Finch and Renny and the old grandmother of the Jalna books. Miss de la Roche hopes to visit Canada next summer.

Negro Pair Killed In Jail Attack

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 1.—Henry "Buddy" Freeman, 24, and Dave Hart, 22, negroes, held on charges of attack on a white girl, were shot and killed today in a prison cell by Sheriff's deputies after the pair had slightly wounded Sheriff Frank Clancy with a smuggled revolver.

Honor Prisoner Breaks Faith

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1.—Gerald Adam, alias George Egan, an "honor boy" at Oakalla jail, escaped Thursday when he was allowed to work near a dense thicket near the prison. He disappeared into the bush and did not return. The 22-year-old youth has served a month and a half of a nine-months sentence.

Broomhall

CHICAGO, Nov. 1—The Argentine markets are closed today, All Saints Day, also those in Belgium, Italy and France.

The foreign demand is dull. Europe is not taking the amount of Canadian wheat anticipated, although stocks remaining in farmers' hands of bread wheat are not large. The visible supply in the country and the Canadian wheat in the U.S. is huge and it is difficult to see how this is going to be disposed. It might be possible to make special arrangements with various deficient countries to take some of the surplus wheat, but within a very short time there will most certainly be increasing offerings from Australia and the Argentine, where crops are better than they were before the Sept. and Oct. rains.

Broomhall makes a tentative estimate of the Argentine wheat exportable surplus of 56 to 72,000,000 bushels, excluding Uruguay and any old crop carryover. This is a very low figure and after Brazil has taken its requirements for the flour mills there will be very little left for Europe.

Livestock

By Dominion Livestock Branch

EDMONTON STOCKYARDS, Nov. 1—Receipts today were: Cattle 106, calves 74, hogs 112 and sheep 57.

Besides the fresh arrivals there are many cattle held over. Considering the quality of the offerings, there is slow action and salesmen are gradually cleaning up their left-overs, but very slowly. Sales up to noon indicate no change in values. Prices remain about steady. Following are the current quotations:—

CATTLE—
Good choice fed calves	$4.00	to	$5.00
Others	3.50		down
Good-choice steers	3.50	to	4.50
Medium steers	2.25	to	3.00
Common-medium steers	1.50	to	2.50
Good-choice heifers	2.50	to	3.50
Common to medium	1.50	to	2.25
Common to fair	1.50	to	1.75
Good cows	1.50	to	1.75
Common to medium	1.00	to	1.50
Canners and cutters	.50	to	.75
Bulls	1.00	to	1.50
STOCKERS & FEEDERS—
Good steers-heifers	2.50	to	3.50
Common to medium	1.50	to	2.25
VEAL CALVES—
Good-choice	3.50	to	4.50
Common-medium	2.00	to	3.00
SHEEP—
Good lambs	4.50	to	5.00
Others	4.25		down
Yearlings	2.00	to	3.25
Ewes	2.00		down

Hogs steady, up to noon bidding $7.25 for the bacons in carloads of fed and watered, and $7.15 on trucked-in bacon.

Insufficient sheep arrivals to make a market; prices remain fairly steady.

AT CALGARY

CALGARY, Nov. 1—Receipts Thursday: Cattle 536, calves 39, hogs 421, sheep and lambs 82; Friday, up to noon, 1 head cattle, 3 calves, 148 hogs and 394 sheep and lambs. Cattle market barely established; prices unchanged. No hogs sold up to noon.

RAIL BONDS FIRM

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 1—Closing wheat futures barely steady. Dec., 6s 2d; March, 5s 10¾d; May, 5s 9⅞d.

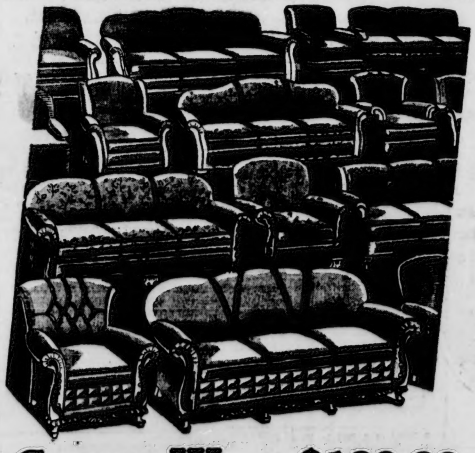
CHESTERFIELD SUITES

This is an outstanding offering of chesterfield suites. Quite an enormous purchase enables us to offer these suites to the Edmonton people at big savings. Every one of these sets is of high grade — right from the coverings to the frames. The prices are considerably lower, due to us buying a large number—in fact, a carload. You may have a choice of mohair or tapestry in each price grouping. Arms and backs are well stuffed and springs are of lasting quality. On sale for Saturday only, from 8:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m., Third Floor, Annex.



Group I. — $69.00

Three-piece Ensembles of Rich Colorful Materials

Don't make the mistake of judging these living room groups by their pricing. Such suites are made to sell at much higher prices—and are worth much more than $69.00. Just to sink into the chesterfield or one of the chairs will convince you of the comfort and serviceability embodied in their making. The reversible spring filled cushions are covered with tapestry as the suite. The mohair suites have cushions of figured jacquette.
SALE, THREE PIECES, $69.00.
—DEFERRED PAYMENT TERMS—DEPOSIT $6.90, AND TEN MONTHLY PAYMENTS OF $6.65. Total D.P. Price, $73.35.

Group II. — $89.00

Economy and Comfort Combined in These Suites

You should certainly make a point of seeing these suites if you are planning to furnish or refurnish your living room. Suites—handsome in line with an air of distinction seldom found in suites at this price. The coverings are of mohair, tapestry or repps (cotton). The show-wood frames are of walnut, richly carved. Ordinarily $109.00 and $129.00.
SALE, THREE PIECES, $89.00.
—DEFERRED PAYMENT TERMS—DEPOSIT $8.90, AND TEN MONTHLY PAYMENTS OF $8.57. Total D.P. Price, $94.60.

Group III. — $109.00

Suites That Will Add Beauty to Your Living Room

The grace of line, the luxurious comfort, and the smart coverings all point to the unmistakable fact that these chesterfield suites were made to sell at higher prices. Covering selection includes novel repps, tapestries with modern designs and mohairs. Some have show-wood fronts of solid walnut. Ordinarily $119.00 and $145.00. SALE, THREE PIECES, $109.00.
—Deferred Payment Terms—Deposit $10.90, and Ten Monthly Payments of $10.50. Total D.P. Price, $115.50.

Group IV. — $119.00

Three-piece Ensembles in Mohair or Tapestry

One glimpse at these ensembles will convince you of the fine quality and excellent workmanship that is embodied in these suites. Repps, with woven jacquard materials to contrast; deep-toned art mohair that resembles a velvet, but that gives hard-wearing service; tapestries of richness and durability. Wing and club chairs and chesterfield of ample proportions complete each ensemble. Ordinarily $129.00 to $165.00. SALE, THREE PIECES, $119.00.
—DEFERRED PAYMENT TERMS—DEPOSIT $11.90, AND TEN MONTHLY PAYMENTS OF $11.46. Total D.P. Price, $126.50.
